Bill,

I've really had fun this year and you've made it that way. Every-thing from "Oh Davm" to turn on the radio. No more talking like you know who. I can't even remember how she does it. We owe Arbys, V.I., Taco Bell ect. 9,000,000 rolls of toilet paper. Sarah can return it we gave her enough of it. Stay the way you are, + if you cut your hair don't carry it around in a paper bag.

New System Proves a Success

Following an unusually long summer, Mesa High School embarked upon a new type of registration. Rather than register for the whole year, students registered for only one semester two or three days before school began. Students were also able to choose the teachers they preferred and what periods of the day they wanted their classes.

This day, usually hectic for teachers and students alike, was more of a success than was expected. Though long lines and waiting were involved, the over all picture was one of more organization than in previous years. Under this new system, classes were not only easier to register for but also much easier to organize.

Workshoppers Gain Knowledge and Experience

Students attending summer workshops this past summer made many new acquaintances along with some memorable experiences.

Workshops available to Mesa High students this summer included: Publications, Boy's State, Girl's State, Anytown, Pom and Cheer, Student Council, Music, and Athletics. The workshops were held at many of the universities in Arizona with the exception of Music Camp which was held at BYU.

Students returning from workshops came back with many new ideas and ways to improve their school responsibilities.

School Opens With Assembly and "Howdy Hop"

Mesa High's school year opened with an assembly to acquaint the Sophomores with Mesa High. The assembly was highlighted by various speakers. Coaches Peterson and Arredondo talked about our football team and what kind of year was expected. They both said that it should be a good year and were very proud of the work and enthusiasm stemming from the teams. Coach Heywood talked about our cross country team and was also proud of their hard work. Mr. Kilbourne, Assistant Superintendent for High Schools and Mesa High graduate, told of how proud we should be of Mesa High. He spoke mainly to the Seniors and suggested that they make the most of their last year at Mesa High. Also, the Cheerleaders introduced some new cheers to help get spirit started and the Bunnies were on hand to display their dancing abilities. Other various activities to help open school included our first dance, "The Howdy Hop," after our first football game. It gave everyone an opportunity to get to know each other and there were pep assemblies to help get spirit really active on campus.

The Sophomores elected class officers on September 19. The newly elected representatives were Lyndon Smith, president, Lynn Keeling, vice president and Karen Elmer, secretary.

Mesa High started off the grid year long on talent, but short on experience. After dropping the first games—one to McClintock and one to Westwood, the Hares got it all together for a winning season.

For the second year in a row Mesa's signal caller was all-stater Cary Palmer whose main claim to fame was a strong throwing arm and cocky poise. Forced to find new receivers after the graduation of Mick Hatcher, he found skill in the hands of Dana Morris, Don Thomas, Mark Walker, and Kenny Miller. An ever improving offensive line made it possible for ground gainers Don Forbis, Tom Rucker, Don Thomas, and Ed Jones to gobble up yardage.

Allen Stamps was the name of the defense as that aggressive end became better acquainted with most opposition quarterbacks than their own friends. He was joined by Mark Walker, Ray Guerrero, Darrel LeSueur, and Brad Young. Wayne Hill, returning offensive guard, was expected to hold down the right side of the line, but he was injured on the first play of the first game and had to undergo knee surgery.

Because of their inexperience, the team wasn't expected to take the league, let alone the repeat in the division championship. It became apparent by the third game of the season the Jack-rabbits were once again a team to be reckoned with.

Reed Peterson held the reins as head coach and mentor of the offense, assisted by Shelby Copeland and Lester Bradley who guided the backfields and lines respectively. Coach Ben Arredondo did his usual fantastic job in his third year of coaching the defensive unit.

Sophomores End With Winning Season

A winning and promising season was played by the sophomore squad in the fall of 74. The J.V. team completed the season with six wins and three losses. The record included three shutouts against Saguaro, Arcadia, and Casa Grande. The teams offense was led by Mitch Louden, Doug Owensby, and Marlow Fenn, all taking turns at halfback and Brad Robinson stood out in his position as right end. The defensive standouts were the two linebackers, Jerry Clark and Dave Madsen. Coach of the team, Richard Sebring, was pleased with the team for the most part but stated some concern over the season record, saying, "The season record wasn't completely indicative of the teams ability to play."

Unconquerable Junior J.V.'s

Rainbows really showed their playing power in the 74-75 season for the junior class. The rainbows went the entire season undefeated in nine games. The grid-ders' offense was led at the quarterback spot by Jim Upchurch. Others on the team that showed outstanding playing in the season were Scott Shaw, John Millican, Dave Knott, Wes Anderson, and Tom Heager. The team was coached by Richard Griffin, Dick Peterson, and Steve Seek. Coach Peterson attributed the team success to "their team work, and winning attitude, and desire to play made them winners."

Young Harriers Shine Out

Mesa harriers finished a fine season of running with a record of six wins and three losses.

The team which was predominately made up of underclassmen, was not looked upon as a division contender in the pre-season polling, but the runners quickly showed their talent. The young team scored two perfect meets in the season and defeated several teams soundly. The team's star runner, junior Rick Halverson, was undefeated in the first five meets of the season and was defeated only twice in the remainder of the year.

Other harriers that performed admirably were sophomores Robert Whetton, Kirk "Dutch" Kram, junior Arnold Burmea and seniors Tom Asburry and Roger Williams.

The J.V.'s also came through with an outstanding season, winning all but two of their nine meets.

Coach Richard Heywood was extremely pleased with the team's performance, especially as, "the team was so young that everybody ignored them and didn't expect them to do as well as they did."

Volleyball "Sets-Up" Success

Mesa's volleyball team finished the 74-75 season in winning style by racking up a 9-3 record. The girls defeated the two top rated teams in the Central Division, Tempe and Arcadia in the course of the season. Bonnie Lloyd was the team standout with her ability to set up the returning plays. Junior Kari Pew was the star spiker on the team. Others on the team that demonstrated their volley skills were seniors Brenda and Sandy Anderson, and juniors Chris Williams, Brenda Taylor and Charlotte Payne. The girls were coached by Mrs. Annette Rood. Mrs. Rood summarized her feelings for the team and the season by saying, "The girls have been a real pleasure to work with, not only are they fine players, but great ladies as well." The J.V. team also completed a winning season with a record of 6 wins and 4 losses.

Badmintoners Birdie Season

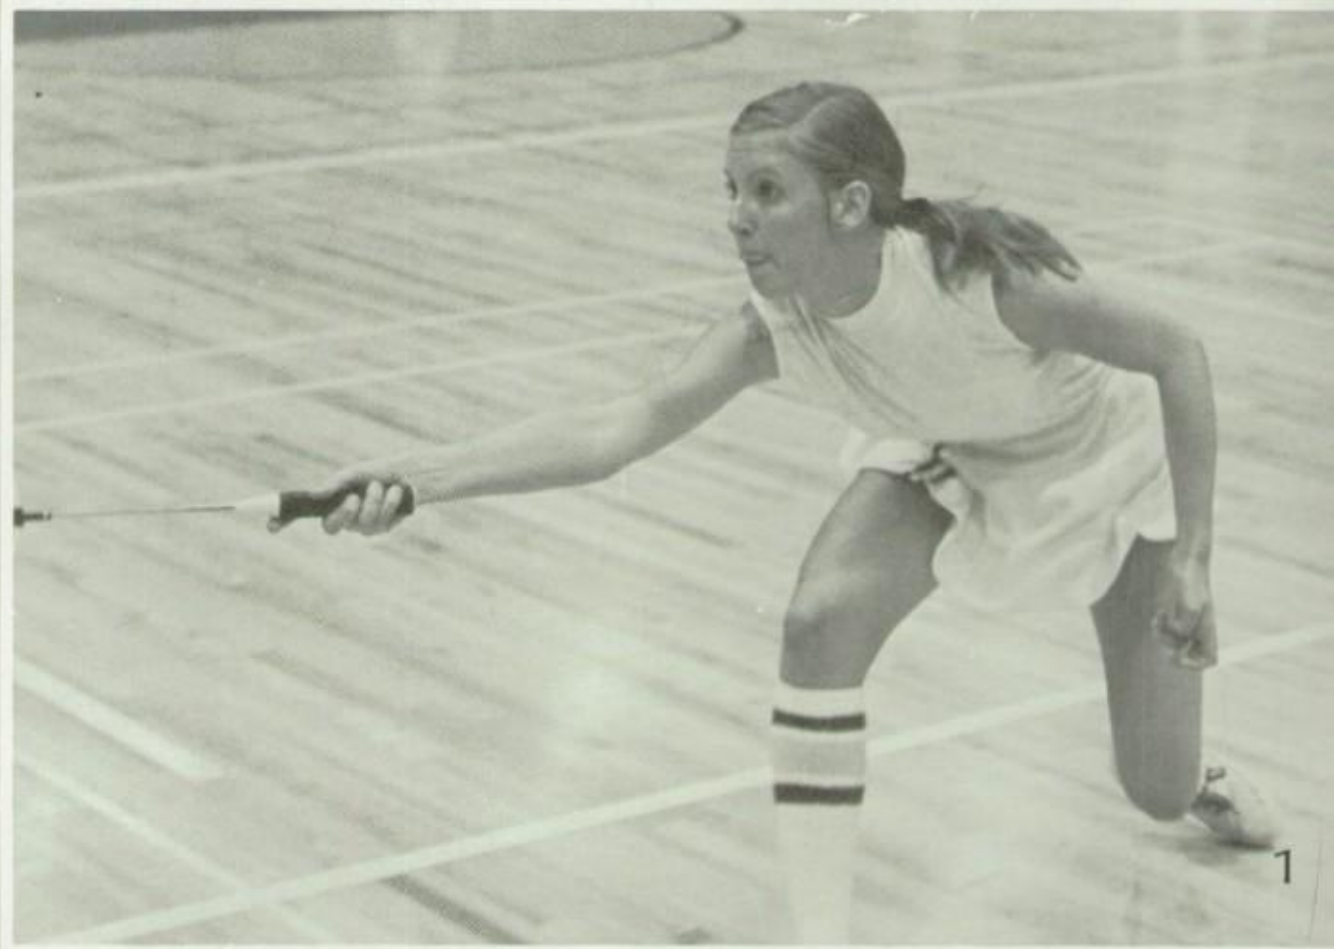

Girls Badminton played one of the toughest line-ups ever faced by a Mesa team this season.

The girls netted a 3-4 season record on the varsity level and 4-3 on the J.V.'s.

The twenty-one girl team was coached by Ms. Nancy Ellis, who praised her team members for their fine individual performances.

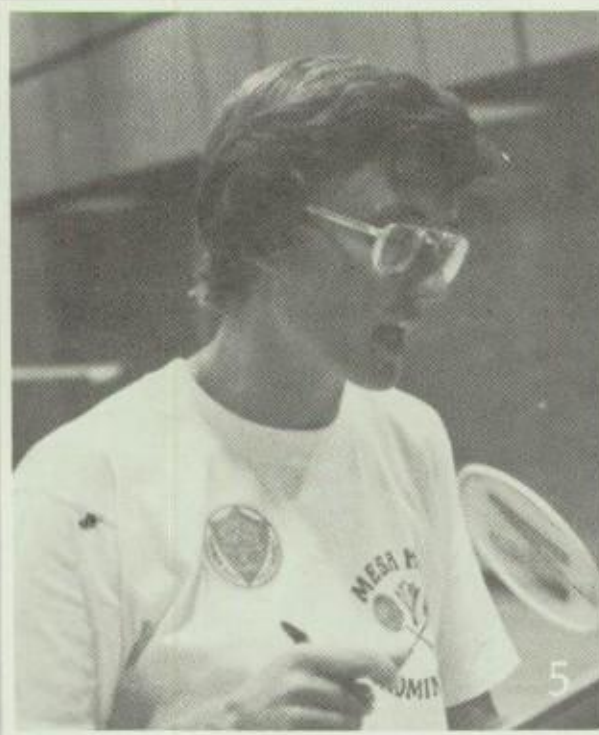

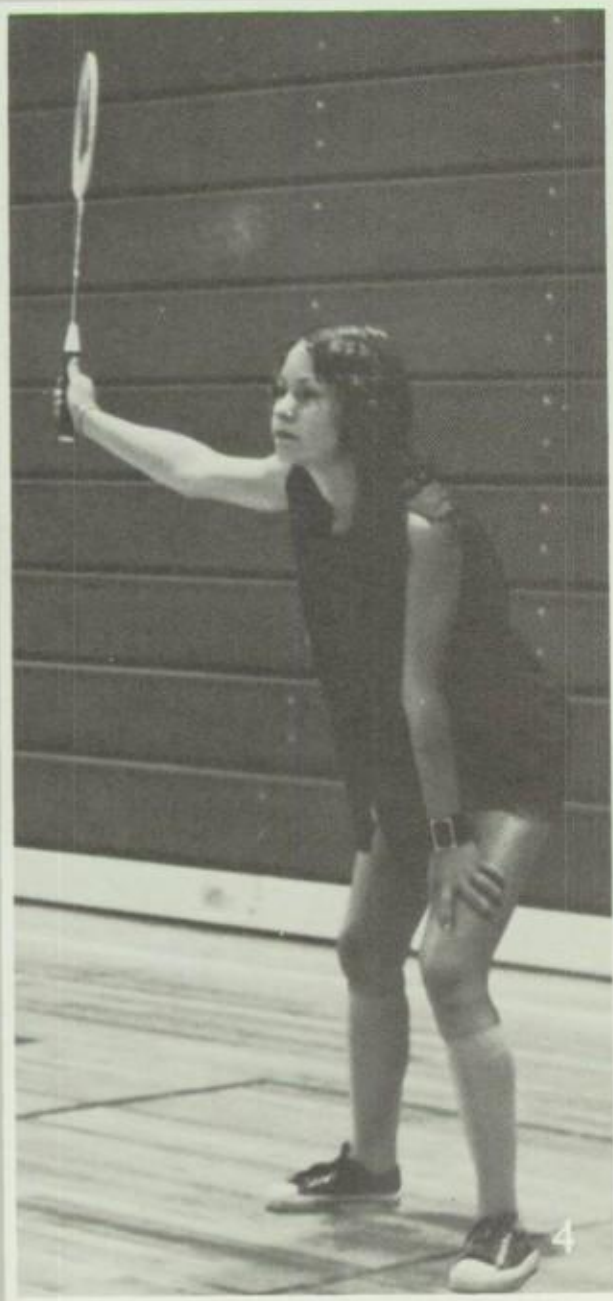

Ms. Ellis felt that the season record wasn't indicative of the teams true performance. "We had many contests that could go either way and just happened to tilt to the other side," stated Ms. Ellis in her explanation. "The girls tried their very best."

The outstanding players on the 74-75 squad were Darla Daves, Lori Morrison, Shirley Otteson, Ricci Poston, Elaine Foote, and Mary Ann Hosick, each were honored as "Player of the Week."

New Team Faces Tough Competition

In accordance with an expanding women's sports program, Mesa High introduced its first girls swim team for 75. Forty girls under the direction of Mrs. Joanne White finished up the season with only two wins and four losses after facing some of the toughest competitors in the nation. Despite the losing season, coach White marveled at the remarkable enthusiasm exhibited by the girls. The outstanding swimmers were; Co-Captain Nancy Jarvey, Tina Bradford, Carolyn Kirkwood, and Susan Williams. The top rated divers for the rabbits were; Co-Captain Sharon Chamblin, Sandy Stevans, Dorothy Tucker and Vicki Klein.

Junior Varsity cheerleaders helped encourage the teams this year by cheering at both Junior Varsity and Rainbow football games. Theresa Rivera, Kim Hunt, Karen Clayton, and Pam Clarke led the crowds with many spirited cheers and chants. In addition to cheering during the football season they supported the Junior Varsity basketball team and helped sophomores raise spirit for the exciting Gah-Tso rally.

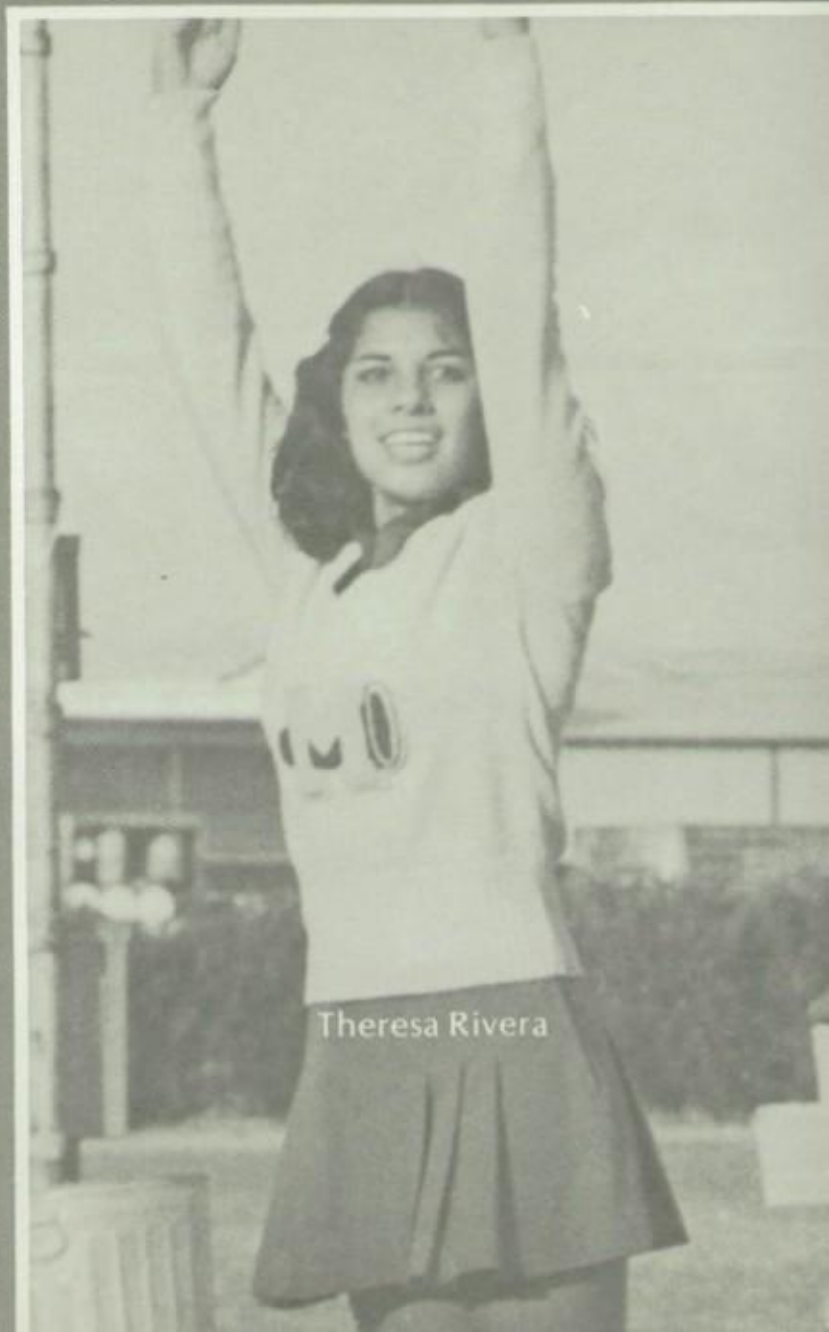

Many changes were made on the Junior Varsity cheerline this year. Miss Judy Driggs, as the new sponsor, coached them in making up new motions and new cheers. Also they had gold sweaters and purple skirts for their new uniforms.

The spirit of Mesa High carried on during Mesa - Westwood Week. Annual traditions had loyal students wearing pink noses and black whiskers on Monday. Crazy Hair Day showed the creative abilities of many. School colors were worn with stomp'em boots on Wednesday. Old fashioned outfits reminded teachers of days in the past. Friday several Westwood warriors were buried in the campus garden. The "Bury the Hatchet" luncheon for class officers of Mesa and Westwood promoted peace between the schools. Mesa lost the football game in a close fight of 13-7. Carry On, Mesa High!

Studying Dem Languages Ain't All Bad

English offers many classes besides the courses required for graduation. Miss Gordon's acting classes are some of these extra courses.

In the beginning class, students learn the various body positions and stage areas. After these basic fundamentals have been covered, the students learn to take a section of a play and cut it down so that only one character is speaking. They then block (put in actions), memorize, and finally, perform the cutting for the class.

Besides learning how to cut a play, the students learn various dialects of the English language, such as a German or an Italian might speak.

Another unit of the course is comprised of special acting techniques. This unit covers stage fighting. It also covers the different types of curtsies and bows that are characteristic of certain parts, such as maids and butlers.

Advanced students go beyond the beginners and learn how to block a cutting for a different type of stage, such as an arena, where the audience is on all sides.

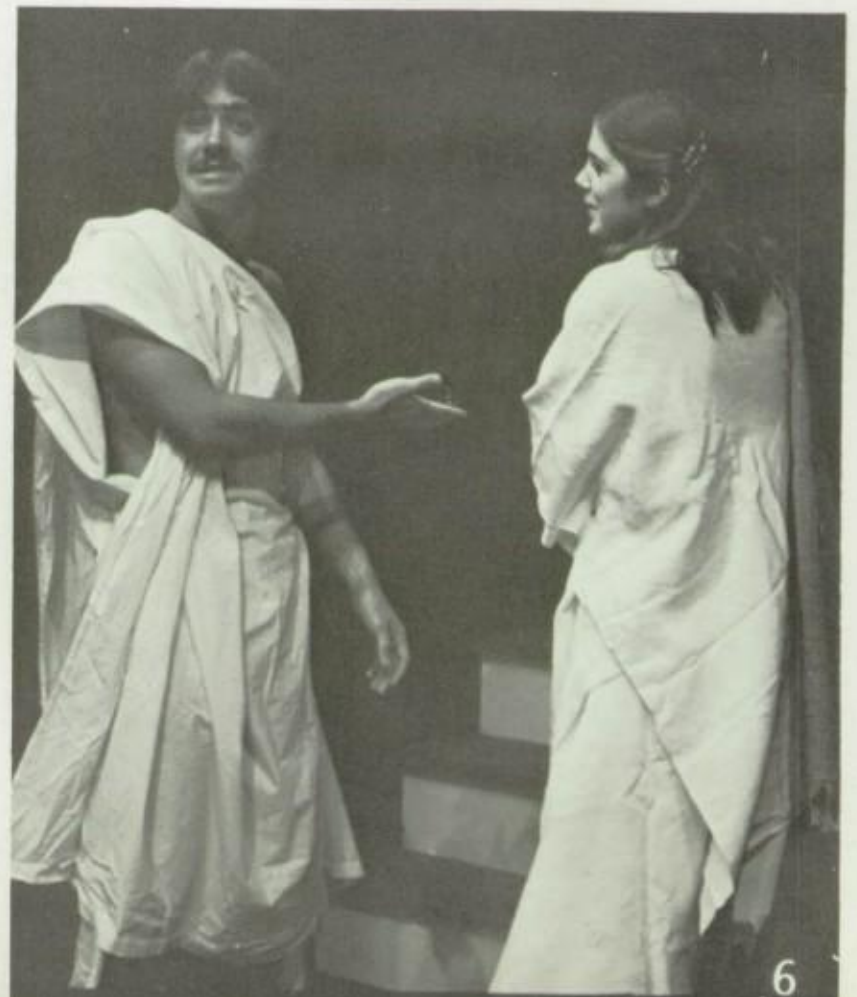

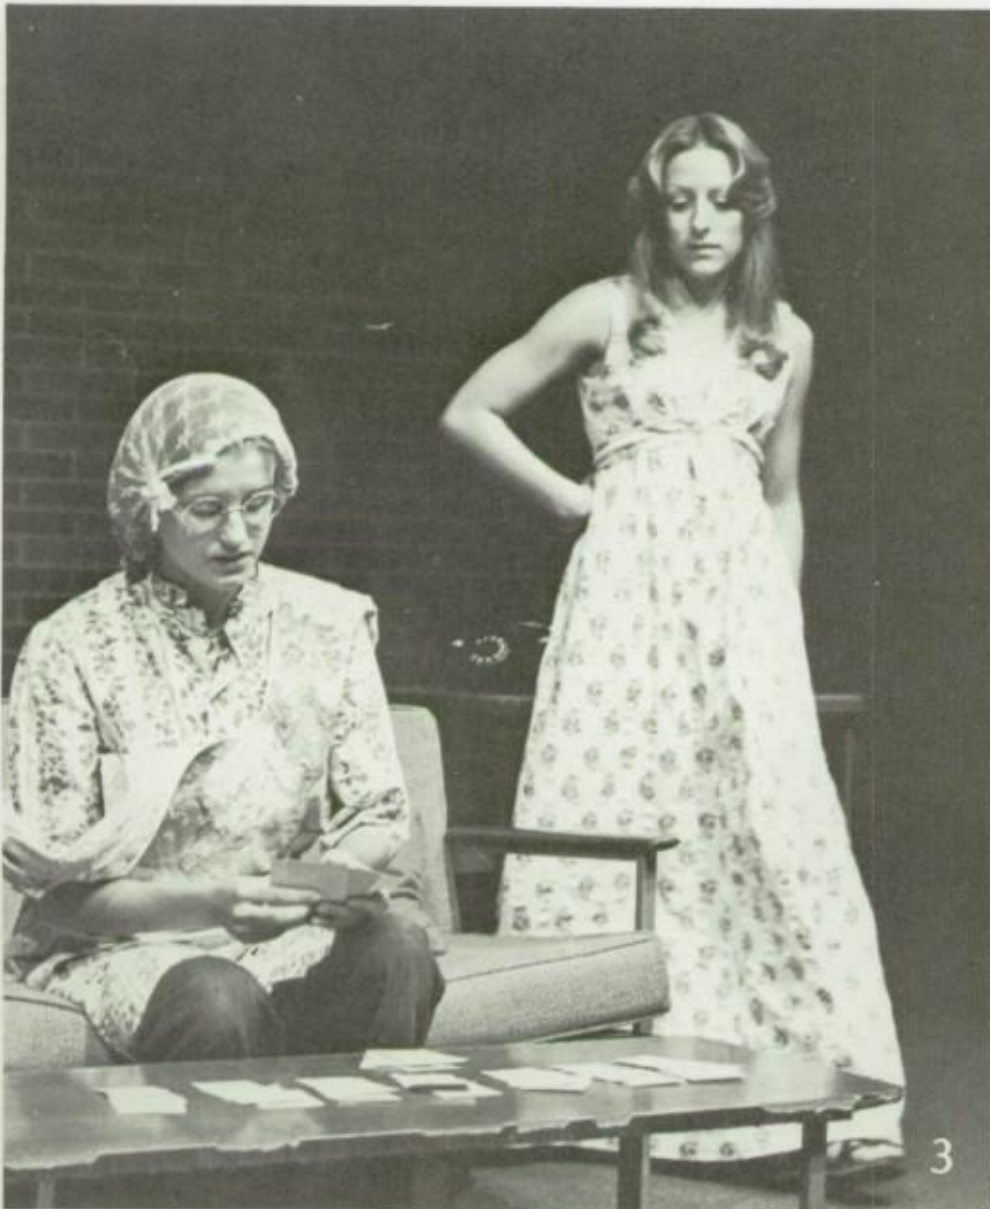

Acting, both beginning and advanced, is a one semester course. It is excellent training for the person who would like to be in a school production, or go on and become a professional actor or actress.

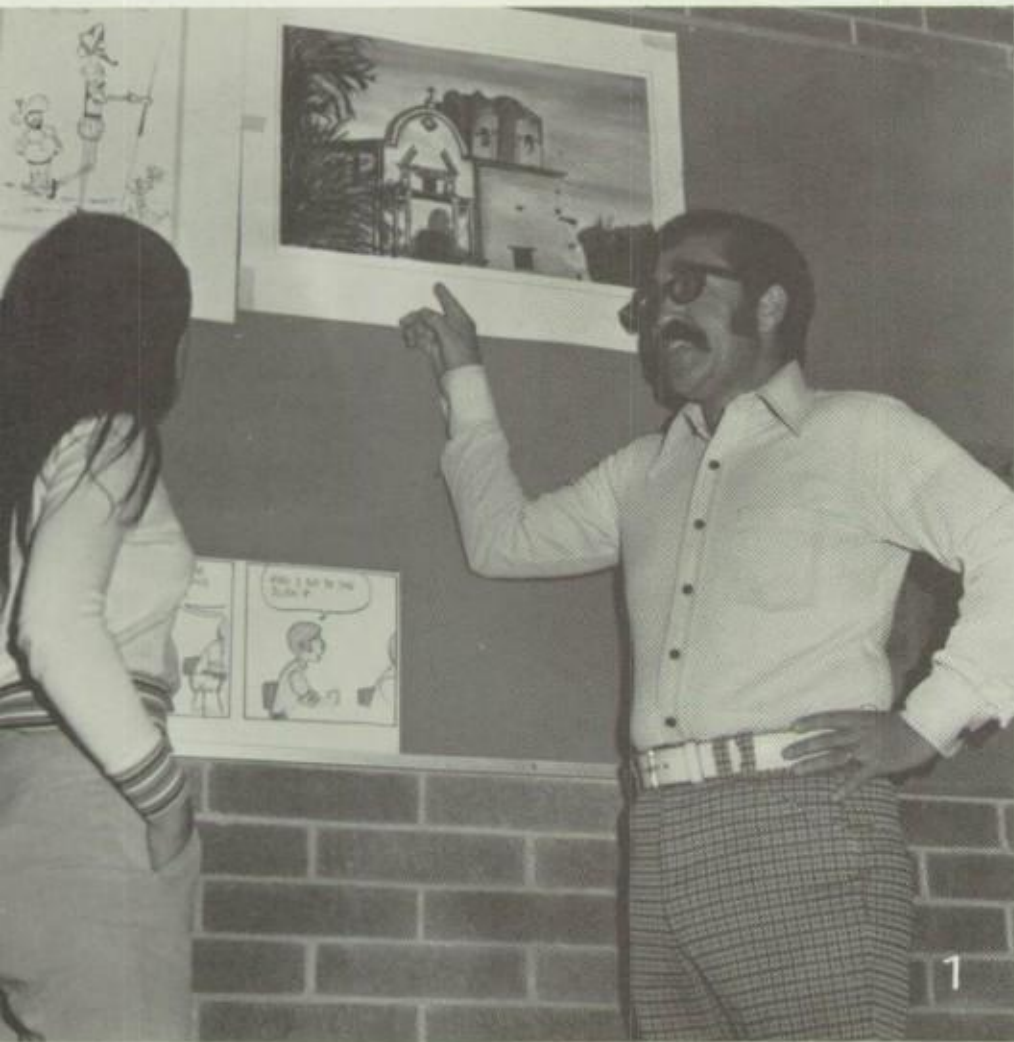

For college-bound students, four English credits are required, but one of these may be two years of a foreign language. Mesa High School offers the following languages: Spanish, German, and French.

Tape recordings are used as teaching aids. By listening to and studying these tapes, the student is able to learn the language. Of course he has to study his textbook and do his homework, also. These tape recordings are now available for use in the library.

To add a little variety to the class, the students learn songs in the language they are studying. In addition to this, the students write and translate fairy tales and skits, and then dramatize the story for the class.

Old and New Faces Add Variety

Variety was the key to the Old and New Faces Assembly presented on September 27th. Comedy was provided by Ned Pierce and Denny Dobbins who hosted the assembly doing a take-off of Cheech and Chong. A modern dance routine was performed by Cydney Boyle, Lisa Huffman, Renauta Randon, Carol Corbridge, Kim Flowers, and Kelly McCoy. Other talent on the agenda included a duet by Kim and Rita Jackson who sang "What's Come Over Me?", and a solo by Dawn Underwood who performed "If You Could Read My Mind." JoAnne Whittaker performed the Carpenters' song

"I Won't Last A Day Without You", and other solos were offered by Patty Moore, and Carol Hazenfield. Dara Hendrickson played a piano solo, and other music was provided by the band "Something Easy." Geneva Vargas was lead singer for the band, and sang part in Spanish and part in English in their version of "Twist and Shout". More comedy was presented in a skit by Rick Magargal, Donna Lofgreen, and Robert Rankin, in which Rick strived to win the affection of his attractive neighbor (Donna). In the end he succeeds in "really getting to her."

Senior Students at MHS Express Opinions

An opinion poll was taken this year from the Senior Class. They were asked three important questions, the results are as follows. What is your opinion of former Army Lt. William Calley Jr. being freed from his manslaughter charge? "I don't feel that the blame for the My Lai Massacre can be blamed on anyone man." John MacMillan "Right On! I honestly didn't feel he should be imprisoned in the first place. Everyone was harping about how innocent those people were, B.S. there had been several accounts of women and children pulling guns on soldiers. There were even those women who would booby trap their children and watch them explode in the arms of a soldier." Dave Jones "Well if the rest of the officers and men were not imprisoned for their part why should he be imprisoned." Nick Byrd "If he was following orders he should not be responsible - the people over him should be." Mary Bendyna "War is a cruel thing and you can't really punish a man because he's involved in war." Kris Knowels "I feel he was just following orders and he should have been freed. If he wouldn't have followed orders he probably would have been court marshalled." Valinda M. Duckett "In my opinion, I'm glad he was freed. He killed those people because of orders given him. If he wouldn't have followed orders, he might have been in trouble-or even killed - himself." Vicki Riggs "He should be freed. He was only acting out his orders. He shouldn't have been charged in the first place." Janet K. Cox "I think it's good Calley just obeyed orders so why should he get the blame. He would have been in trouble whether he obeyed or not." Carol Smith "I don't believe he should have been charged. He was doing his duty." Cyndi Walters "From what I have read and heard I think he deserves to go free because the Army made him a scapegoat." James Cooper "I think he should be made to serve out the sentence he was given." Ross Timmons How do you feel about former President Nixon's resignation? "I think he should of stayed in. He was really doing more than any other president was doing for his country. He is better than President Ford." Robin Mooi "It was the only smart thing to do because hardly anyone respected him enough to trust him after the Watergate incident." Laurie Augustine "I'm glad he resigned, because if he hadn't resigned when he did chances are he would have been shot later." Bobbi Smith "It was for the best, it might of had been better if he would have resigned earlier." Robert Noriega "I don't like it. I think he was a good president, everyone look at his bad points and none of his good points. He really did a good job while he was in office." Ron Koberna What is your opinion about the price of food going up? "FAR OUT! I mean that literally. Food prices are WAYOUT of bounds. I don't have any answers for inflation, but my out look on the price of food is negative." Kevin Smith "I think it's getting a little RIDICULOUS!" Julie Roman "I don't like it but there's not much I can do about it." Glenn Watsen "It's not that the price of food is going up its just the cost of money is going down as the greed for money has sky rocketed." Phil Matheson "I wish they could do something to bring the prices down. Prices are really getting to be RIDICULOUS!" Anna Adams "I just hope that something happens to bring prices down. By the time I get older prices will be ridiculous if they don't come to a halt." Keith Thomspen Now you see how some of the Senior Class felt about the questions they were asked.

Music Concerts in October

On October 15 the Legend Singers, Loyalty Singers, and J.V. Band held their first concert. Between groups some of the A Cappella members did special numbers to add variety. Then on the 25 of October the Orchestra, Tradition Singers, and Arizonans performed.

Concerts were given, free of charge, in the auditorium for anyone wanting to come. There seemed to be a better attendance this time. Chorus girls chose their dress style.

The Orchestra and Band were led by Mr. Ken Zebro and the Choruses were led by Mr. Harry S. Garrett and Mr. Dale Hall.

"I Believe" in Variety

"I Believe" was the theme of the 1974-75 A Cappella Variety Show. The prelude music was provided by the A Cappella Band, which kept the audience entertained by playing an assortment of numbers.

A cordial "Hi Neighbor" and "What a Wonderful World" were sung by the entire chorus as they got the show off to an energetic start.

There were many individual and small group performances besides the large group numbers. One of these included Kevin Smith and Randy White singing "Sounds of Silence." Adding to the show was Sheila Robinson, a guest of A Cappella who played "Dream of Love" as a piano solo.

A more comical tone was added as Cindy Millet and Jana Young sang "I'm Gonna Wash That Man Right Outa My Hair", and Matt Salmon and Leslie Turley sang a medley of "Seventy-Six Trombones" and "Goodnight My Someone".

Highlights of the variety show were the Superstitions singing their two numbers, "Happiness Comes, Happiness Goes" and "Can't Help Falling In Love With You", and also the Spirit Singers singing "Amazing Grace". The Spirit Singers are a newly formed group made up of the top Junior girls in A Cappella.

The audience was very responsive by clapping hands and stomping feet as Randy Kartchner fiddled away on "Orange Blossom Special" with guitar accompaniment provided by his dad. He also played the piano and sang "We've Only Just Begun." Chuck Walker got his toes tapping as he tap danced to "Bill Bailey". Blackouts were performed by Koko Head, David Robinson, George Richardson, Terry Tucker, and Kelly Thompson between acts.

The show was brought to a close as the entire A Cappella sang "Make America Proud of You" and a medley of "Ave Maria" and their theme song "I Believe".

Dreams Come True for Homecoming Royalty

On Friday night, October 25, the stands filled with students and alumni of Mesa High, all anxiously awaiting the halftime announcement of this year's homecoming royalty. Second attendants were Liz Stole and Don Forbis. Cydney Boyle and Don Thomas took the honors of first attendants. As the time of crowning came near, last year's King and Queen, Mickey Hatcher and Debbie Lowe, turned over their robes and crowns to the 1974-75 Homecoming King and Queen, Cary Palmer and Gayleen Roit. Crown bearers for the ceremony were Nathan and Matthew Skinner, and Katy McCormick. Tracy Kanaga crowned the royalty.

Following Mesa's 52-21 victory over Chapparral, was the homecoming dance. The theme was "The Way We Were." The band for the festivities, held in Jack-rabbit Gym was "Fixture".

Rabbits Rally for Spirit Tradition

M.H.S. held its annual "Big Rabbit" rally on Friday, October 11th. The purpose of the rally was to promote spirit among the classes. It consisted of field decorations, skits, class yells, stand decorations, and sportsmanship. The Seniors came in first place in field decorations, with a papier maché rabbit on a napkin background, and in class yells. The Sophomores won the skits, with a fable about the origin of Mesa High, and also won the attendance. The Juniors came out supreme on stadium decorations and sportsmanship. The Seniors came in first place overall with five points. The Sophomores came in second with three points, and the Juniors in third with one point.

Learning by Experience

A brand new class was offered second semester in the Social Studies department. PIC (Participation in Community) was started by Mrs. Hellberg, one of the government teachers. Students went into the community to do volunteer work for various agencies; such as the Salvation Army Day Care center, the elementary schools, and others. Speakers that the government classes heard included De Ette Burdue, from the Arizona Protective Services, who talked about child abuse. Brenda Udall from "Right to Life" talked about life starting at conception.

Students in Geometry designed and made geometric figures as part of their schoolwork. Many students in Mrs. Thomas' Trig-Calculus class used computers during the year. General Math classes used computers also.

The science department gained an interest with many students when the science club took pictures of peoples' auras. The aura is the electricity sent off by the body. Pictures were also taken of leaves and keys. They showed a surprising amount of electricity. Students could buy auras of their hand for twenty-five cents.

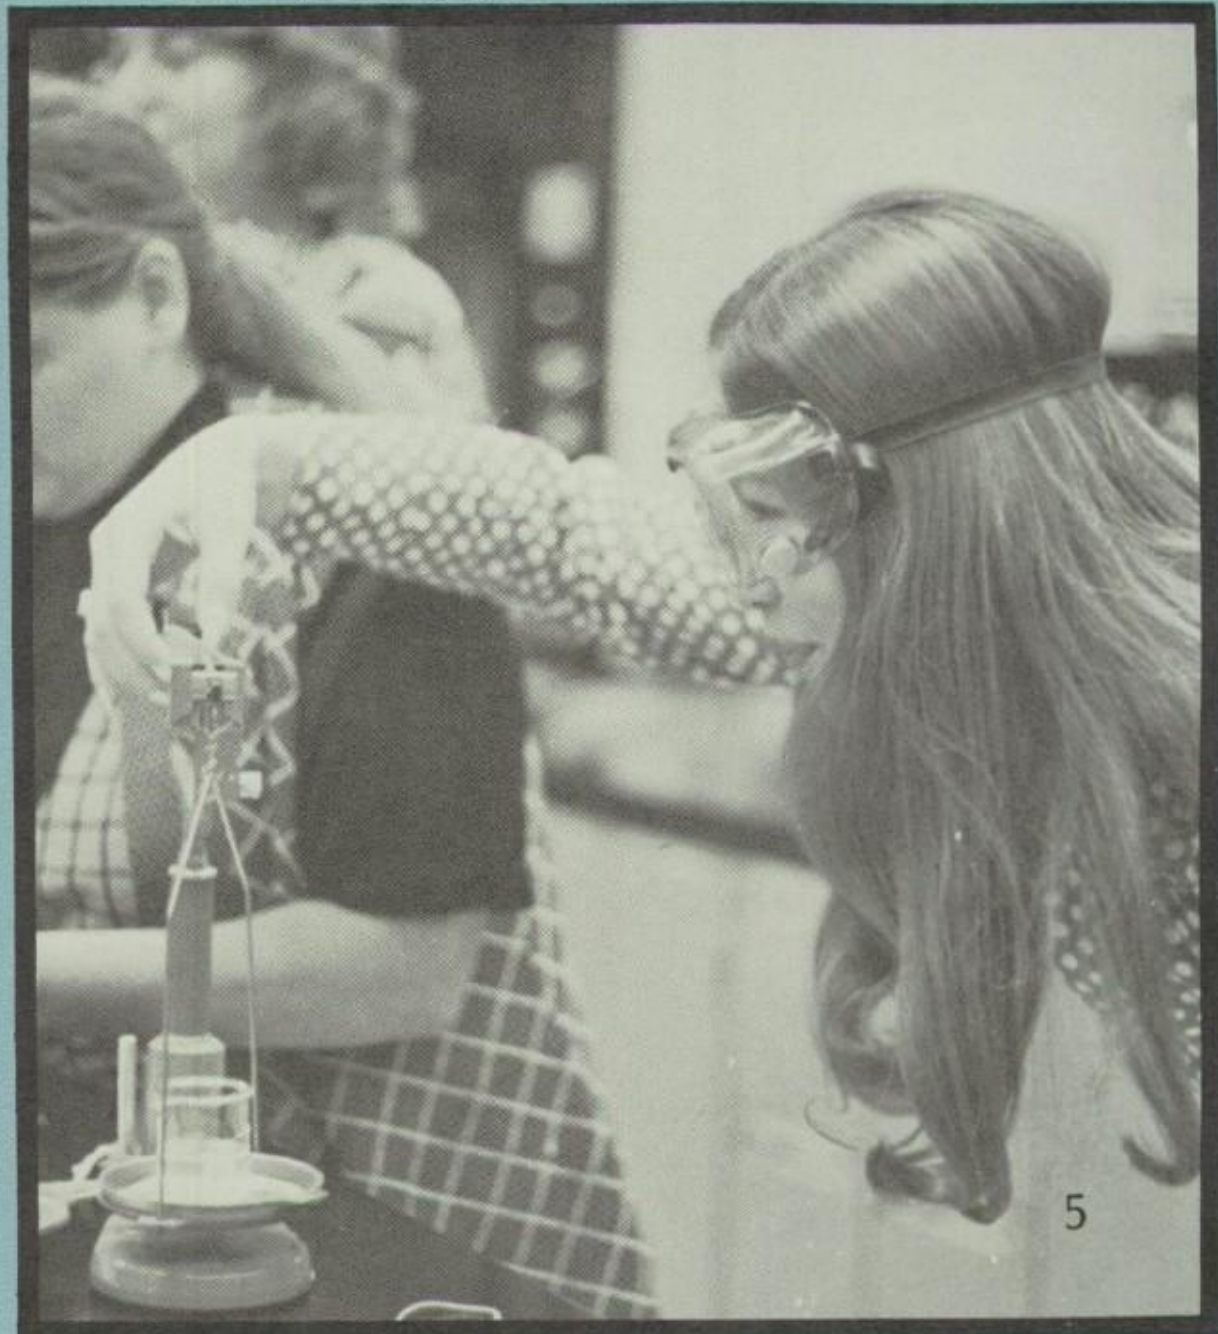

Students in the chemistry classes did several experiments this year. The physiology classes learned about many organs by the dissections of animals.

Superstitions' Survey; Students' Opinions

Many students felt that a closed campus would not be effective. Here were some reasons why: "It would create problems and not solve them," Judy Morse. "It would take away free choices of the students." Gayle Dial, "I don't think we should have to suffer the consequences of a so-called closed campus just because of the immaturity and recklessness of a few students that abuse their freedom." Laura Adams, "Some of the students feel that it would be stupid to set-up a fence and lock us in and treat us like babies."

Many opinions arose about the Equal Rights Amendments in 1975. Feelings in general, were against the E.R.A. Mostly it was because women did not want to share a bathroom or get drafted. Many failed to see the true importance of E.R.A., the right for men and women to have equal opportunities and pay. A law was passed saying that discrimination in jobs was illegal. The real need for that law to be enforced.

Many women felt the E.R.A. was taking away their dignity. They still wanted to be women. Women didn't want to run their households' or take away their husbands responsibilities. The majority of the people thought the E.R.A. was going "to far."

Teenage marriages were considered both good and bad. Young people seemed to feel that waiting a few years would be best. Some students said that marriage would be okay for a mature teenager, but on the whole, most teenagers would not be emotionally ready for it.

F.F.A. Is Involved at M.H.S.

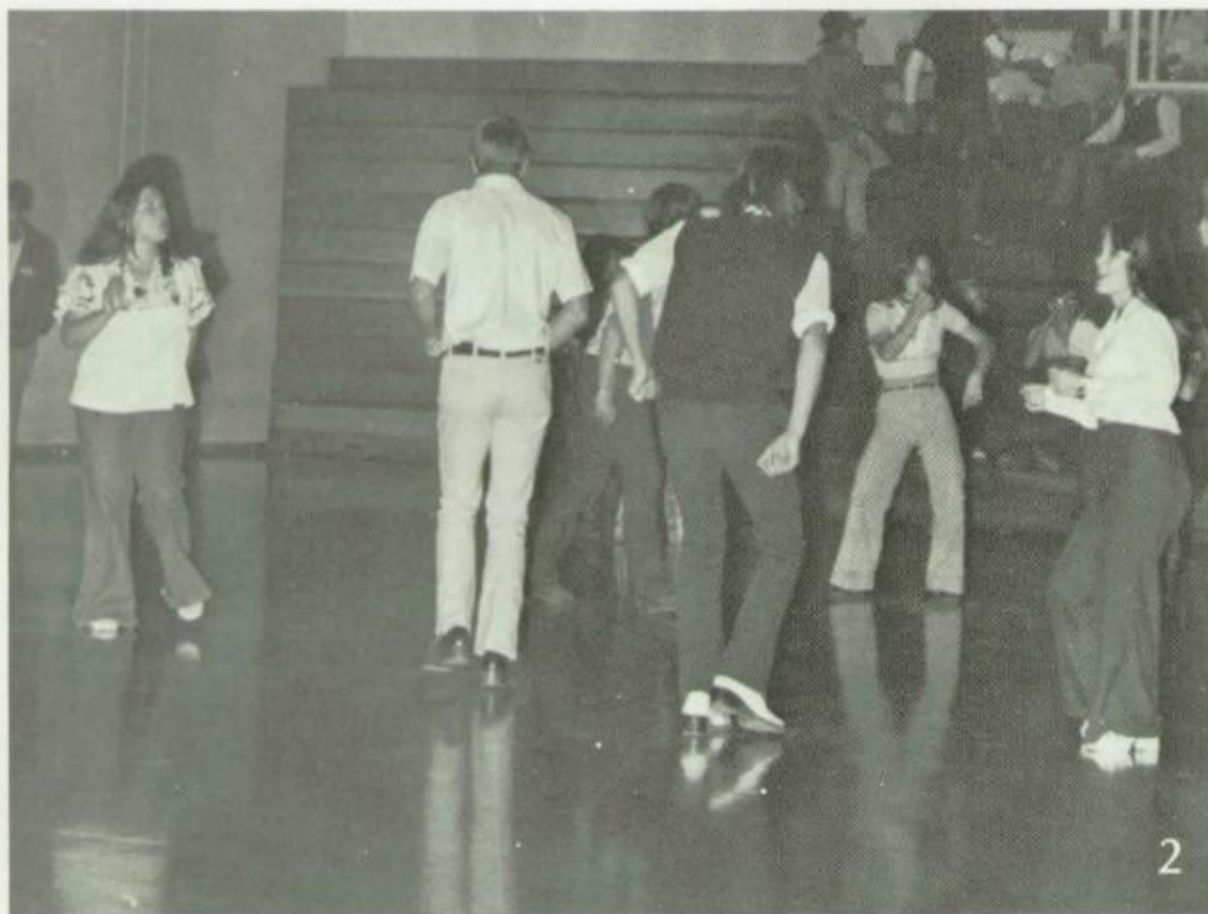

November 15, 1974 was an eventful evening for Mesa High School students. On senior night the football team won a close victory over Tempe, which was the last game of the season.

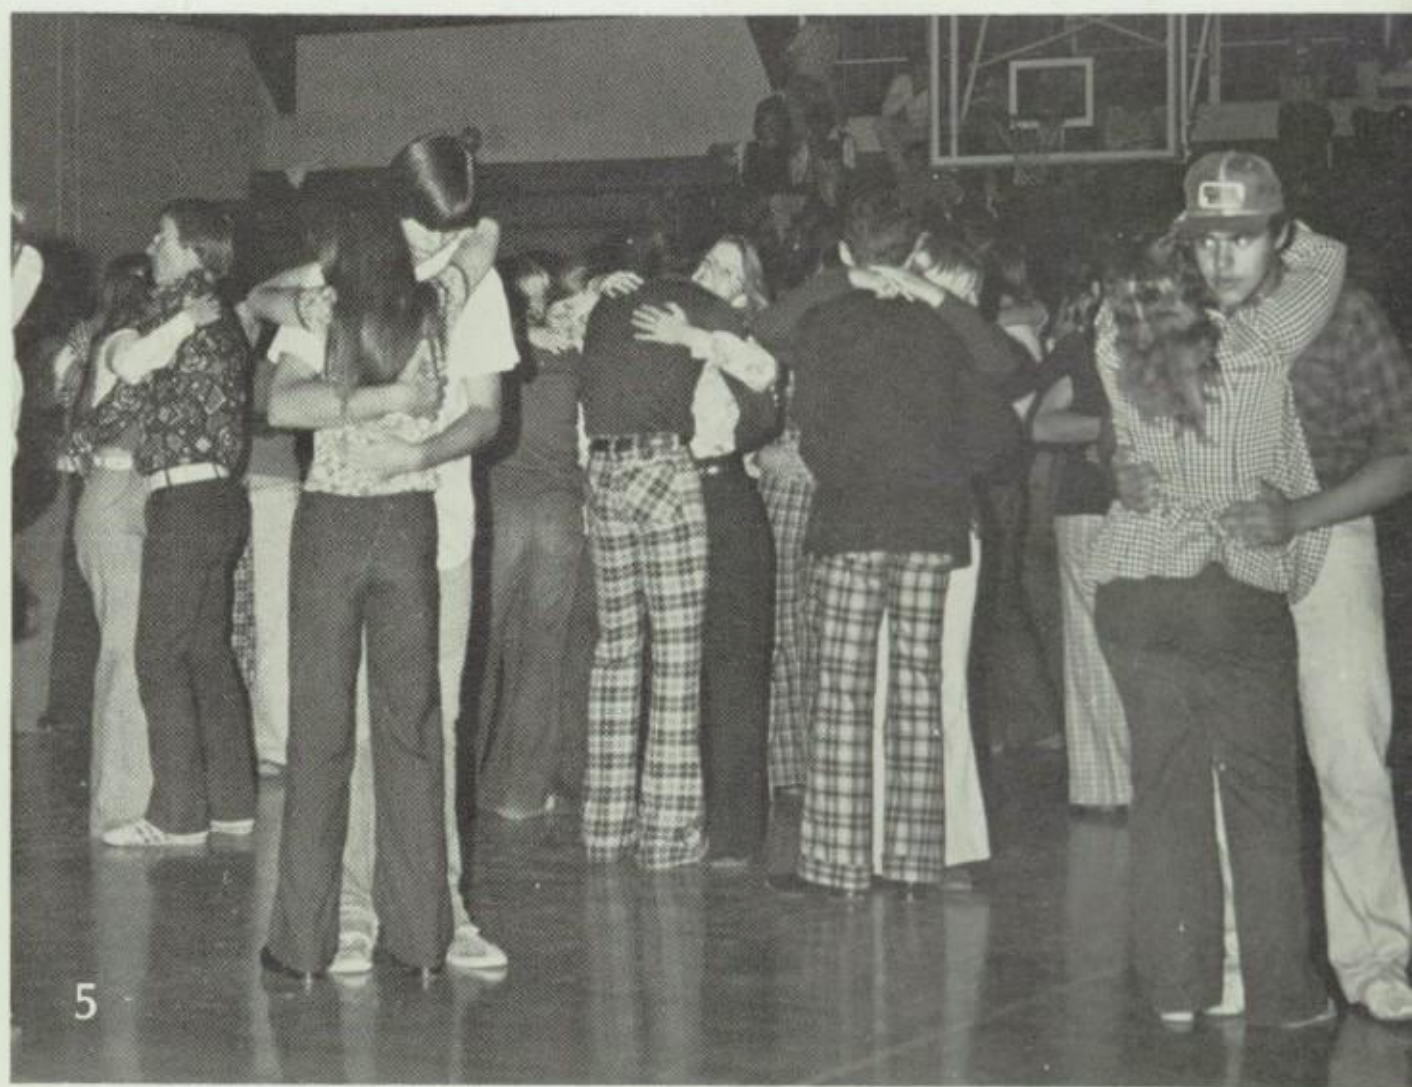

In addition to the game and immediately following it was a dance sponsored by F.F.A. An open invitation was given to the entire student body; casual dress and a M.H.S. activity card were the only requirements for obtaining admission.

The dance was held in the old

Jackrabbit Gym and lasted from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m. "Revolution" was the name of the band that played and just about all of today's rock songs could be heard at the dance.

"F.F.A. is involved at M.H.S." was the theme of the dance that night. The dance was considered very well attended with over five hundred people present. Thanks to F.F.A. Mesa High students had an enjoyable evening after a victorious game. A fitting end for a successful season.

School Play Sprouts "Bad Seed"

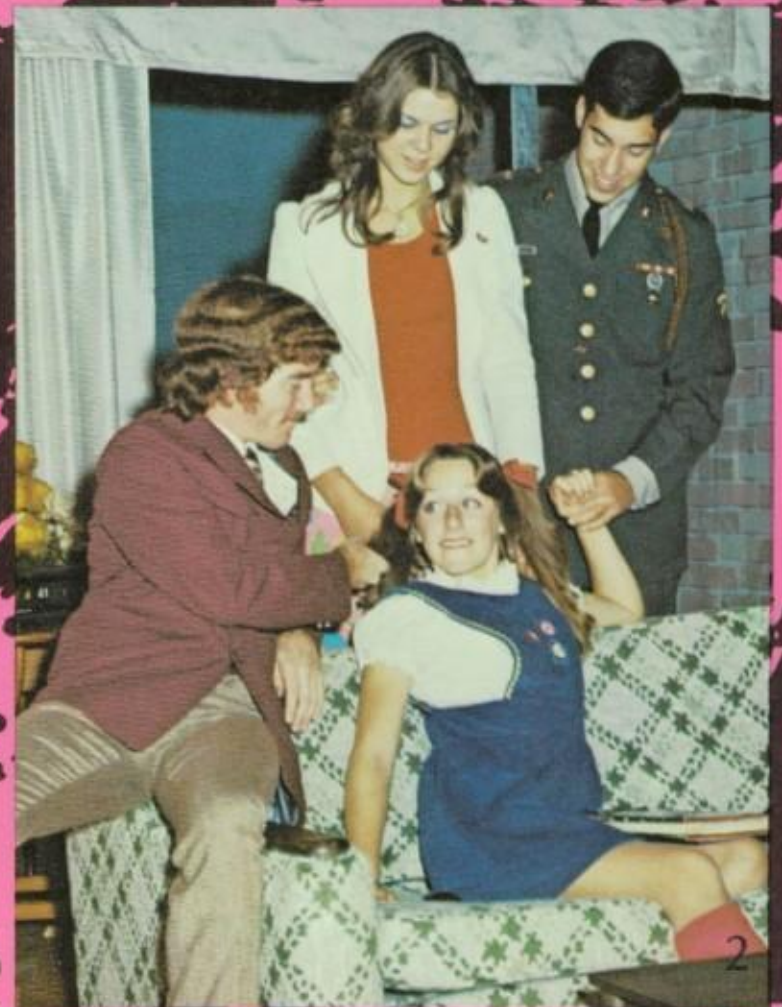

Renee' Gardner starred as ten year old hereditary murderess, Rhoda Penmark in the school play, "The Bad Seed." The production was directed by Miss Marcia Gordon, an English and Drama teacher with the aid of assistant director Pam Moore.

Rhoda killed a schoolmate out of jealousy over a penmanship medal and also planned and executed the death of Leroy, the janitor, played by Randy White, who knew Rhoda's secret.

When Rhoda confessed being the murderess of Claude Daigle and Leroy, her mother, Christine Penmark, played by Terry Roy, gave her an overdose of sleeping pills and committed suicide by shooting herself. However, Rhoda was saved by Monica Breedlove, played by Patty Moore, as Monica had heard the gunshot fatal to Christine. Rhoda alone survived with the knowledge of her murders safely hidden forever.

Many Honors Go to Coeds

Every year, the Beta Chi Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sponsors the Mesa's Junior Miss Pageant. This year, Mesa High had thirteen young ladies competing for the title connected with this annual event. The girls were judged on poise, appearance, personality, and talent. Although a Mesa High girl did not win the title, several honors went to students of this school. Gayleen Roit came away as second runner-up, Carol Corbridge received the Poise and Appearance Award, and Patty Moore won the Personality Award after being voted on by the contestants.

Ruth Deacon had the honor of being the F.F.A. Sweetheart this past year. Among the many responsibilities that went with this position was the duty of being the committee chairman of all the F.F.A. sponsored activities.

Home Ec-Industrial Arts: Classes of Fun

An opportunity to engage in most societal developments relevant to industry is the exact purpose of Industrial Arts. The students, both guys and girls have the opportunity to think for themselves, develop desirable attitudes towards health and safety and to acquire the habit of an orderly and complete performance of any task. As the students learn these principles they have fun while also training for a possible job. Industrial Arts is open to both guys and girls who are interested in further development of their talents, and have fun also.

(1) Showing the way for students, is Mr. Garcia. (3) Mike Gourde routs wood for class project. (4) Working on making an acceptable set of plans, is Wendell Payne.

Students on campus were ready for anything if they took Home Ec. The Home Ec department had everything from child development to tailoring. Specializing in advanced classes was part of the plan as well as teaching the basic courses. This way there was something for everybody.

The highpoint in Home Ec. was the playschool for community children. Children were brought to school to give the girls in child development first hand experience in child behavior, and how to control them.

Advanced foods was also a favorite of many students. An appreciation for people of other lands was gained by trying new recipes from all over the world. Cake decorating was a highlight of the class and a cake decorating contest culminated the class.

Tailoring was also a top class. The girls in this class were exceptional sewers and made many difficult items, such as mens' suits.

November News 1974

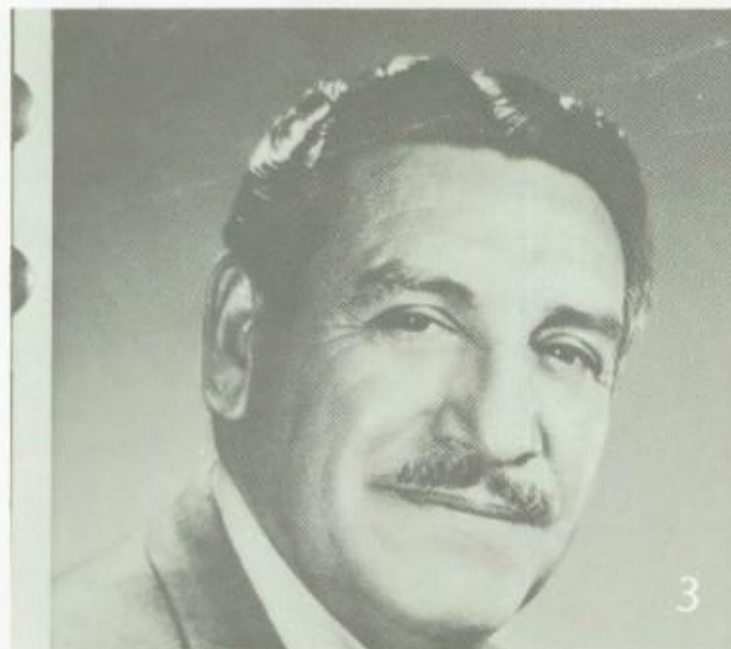

Democrats overpowered the Republicans in the November 1974-75 off-year elections. Raul Castro, D., became Arizona's governor, Barry Goldwater, R., re-elected U.S. Senate, John Rhodes, R., re-elected for twelfth time to House of Representatives, Bruce Babbitt, Attorney General, D., Carolyn Warner, Superintendent of Public Instruction, D., and Wesley Bolin, Secretary of State, D.

President Ford journeyed to South Korea, Japan, and Moscow on a goodwill mission at the end of November. November 14, Ford arrived at Luke Air Force Base to speak at a national convention of the Society of Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi Chapter.

Former President Richard Nixon was unable to appear and testify in the Watergate cover-up trial, due to his phlebitis. Three professional doctors appointed by Judge Sirica to examine Nixon reported that he was not in good enough health to testify at the trial. Nixon was operated on to remove the blood clot in the veins of his left leg before the clot loosened and moved to his lungs. He was released from the hospital November 14.

Inflation was a big issue as the prices of many things rose. Sugar was an example of the high costs of food. Many supermarkets asked consumers to help them boycott sugar by posting signs at sugar counters. Mesa High had their own boycott during the week of December 2 thru December 6. Sugar was not used in anything in the cafeteria or snack bar for the entire week. Apples, bananas, and oranges took the place of brownies and other pastries. Students with signs marched around the campus and were filmed by TV station newsmen during both lunches.

December Concerts

Reflect Yule Spirit

December was the month for music to fill the air and Mesa High contributed it's share in the way of concerts. In addition to the traditional Vespers service the Music Department presented two other concerts.

On December 5 the Legend, Loyalty, Spirit and Superstition Singers and the Men's Chorus were on the program. Under the direction of Dale Hall and Harry S. Garrett the choruses sang, "Three Noels", "Fum, Fum, Fum", "I Enjoy Being a Girl", "Brand New Morning" and many others.

December 19 the Tradition Singers, the Arizonans and the Concert Band had their chance to display their talent. "Wintry Scene" was among selections played by the band. Among the renditions offered by the Arizonans was "A Time to be Jolly". The Tradition Singers sang "A Christmas Canon" among others.

Through these concerts, Mesa High contributed to the feeling of Christmas in the air.

Traditional Vespers Welcomes the Yuletide

8

Mesa High A Cappella Choir put on its 29th annual Christmas Vespers on Sunday, December 15th, 1974. Many traditional carols were sung. The major work, "Command Thine Angel, That He Come," was accompanied by an orchestral ensemble. Chamber Singers, Madrigal Singers and Superstitions, all members of the A Cappella, performed numbers such as: "Follow That Star," "Little Drummer Boy," and "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen." A three choir arrangement of "Joy, Joy, Joy" was one of the highlights of the program.

MHS Shows Festive Spirit

Christmas spirit was radiated in many ways during the weeks before Christmas. Serendipity Club sponsored a window decorating contest in the Media Center. Girls' Lettermen took first place, Mayo Club, second and Drama Club, third. The Annual Vespers Concert was preformed by A Cappella and the Christmas Formal, sponsored by Boys League was held December 21.

On the last Friday, Fine Arts Council put on a Christmas Assembly. Entertainment was provided as the Bunnies danced to "Jingle Bell Rock", and twelve students acted out "The Twelve Days of Christmas". The assembly was brought to a close on the more spiritual side as A Cappella sang while a nativity scene was presented.

"Under the Mistletoe"

December 21 is a date that will be long remembered for many of the students who attended the "74" Christmas Formal sponsored by the Mesa High Boy's League.

This special occasion was held in the Arizona Room at Arizona State University.

The room was decorated with Christmasy decorations and mistletoe to help spark off the chosen theme "Under the Mistletoe." Couples danced to the music played by Beau Geste.

Among the students enjoying themselves, were the teachers who helped make the event possible by chaperoning and taking tickets at the door.

Refreshments were served, and also couples were given the opportunity to have their pictures taken in order to capture those special moments.

Premier Season a Winner

History was made and a record was set in a premier year of softball at Mesa High. For the first time, the Jackrabbits were responsible for producing a women's varsity softball team. The team started out in a dynamite way, capturing the central division title and moving all the way into state competition. The twenty six girl team chalked up a 6-1 regular season record, losing only in a close game with Casa Grande. The girls earned a reputation for overwhelming their opponents with high scores, and allowing the opposition only minimal points. The winning pitcher for the team, and outstanding player in the season was Marilyn White. Others which demonstrated exceptional softball skill were first baseman Darla Denehy, Susan Sprinzl, Sherri O'Donnal, Sandy Anderson, Vicki White, and Darla Wisemon. The team's coach, Nancy Ellis, praised the team for their dedication to the game and for their fine examples. She also commended the school system for expanding the girls' sports program in general.

MHS Offers Varied Curriculum

In the Media Center, students were taught everything about a library so that any library under their supervision would run smoothly. They checked out books, filed them away, and checked out magazines, among other things.

Another course that deals with the Media Center was the A.V. department. An aspect of A.V. that not many people knew of was that they make posters and signs that the teachers used as visual aids. They showed films, and video tapes, delivered and picked up equipment, and repaired film.

Business students learned business law, shorthand, typing, notehand, accounting, book-keeping, and office machines. This helped them to prepare for different office jobs.

1974: A Year of Many Firsts

1974 was a year of firsts for America and world as well as for Arizona. Many of these firsts were set in the closing month of the year.

Nelson Rockefeller, the millionaire, entered the office of the vice presidency Dec. 19 to become the second highest office holder in America. And for the first time both of the high offices of president and vice president were filled by men who weren't elected to either office.

Arizona set another national first when Raul Castro was elected and sworn in as Governor, he was the first of Mexican descent to be sworn in as a governor in the United States.

Fellow Arizonan, Congressman Morris Udall, became the first man to announce his candidacy for the office of President of the United States.

On the dismal side, the economy continued to slump, besetting the Ford administration with ever mounting pressure.

Season Record Belies Team Potential

Mesa High fielded one of the strongest lineups ever to be seen on the courts of Jackrabbit Gym. While the cagers played an even season according to record, they produced exceptionally talented players. Coach Royd Shumway's star player, San Allen, was named in the all-state ranks. Allen lead the team's battles consistantly, averaging over 20 points a game. Allen, a senior, was a three year veteran of the Mesa Varsity squad. Almost equalling Allen's performance in the season was Kevin Dewey who averaged an exceptional number of assists. He also led the team in free throw shooting. Other Jackrabbits who performed strongly were Denny Dobbins, Dennis Webb, Cary Palmer, and Bob Spracale. Coach Shumway praised the players as fine athletes but regretted they failed to reach their potential in the season action.

JV's Get Hard Knocks

The Junior Varsity cagers had somewhat of an off year despite some strong individual performances. The jayvees, facing strong competition throughout the division, only managed one win in the first ten games; a 64-47 victory over the Saguaro Saber-cats.

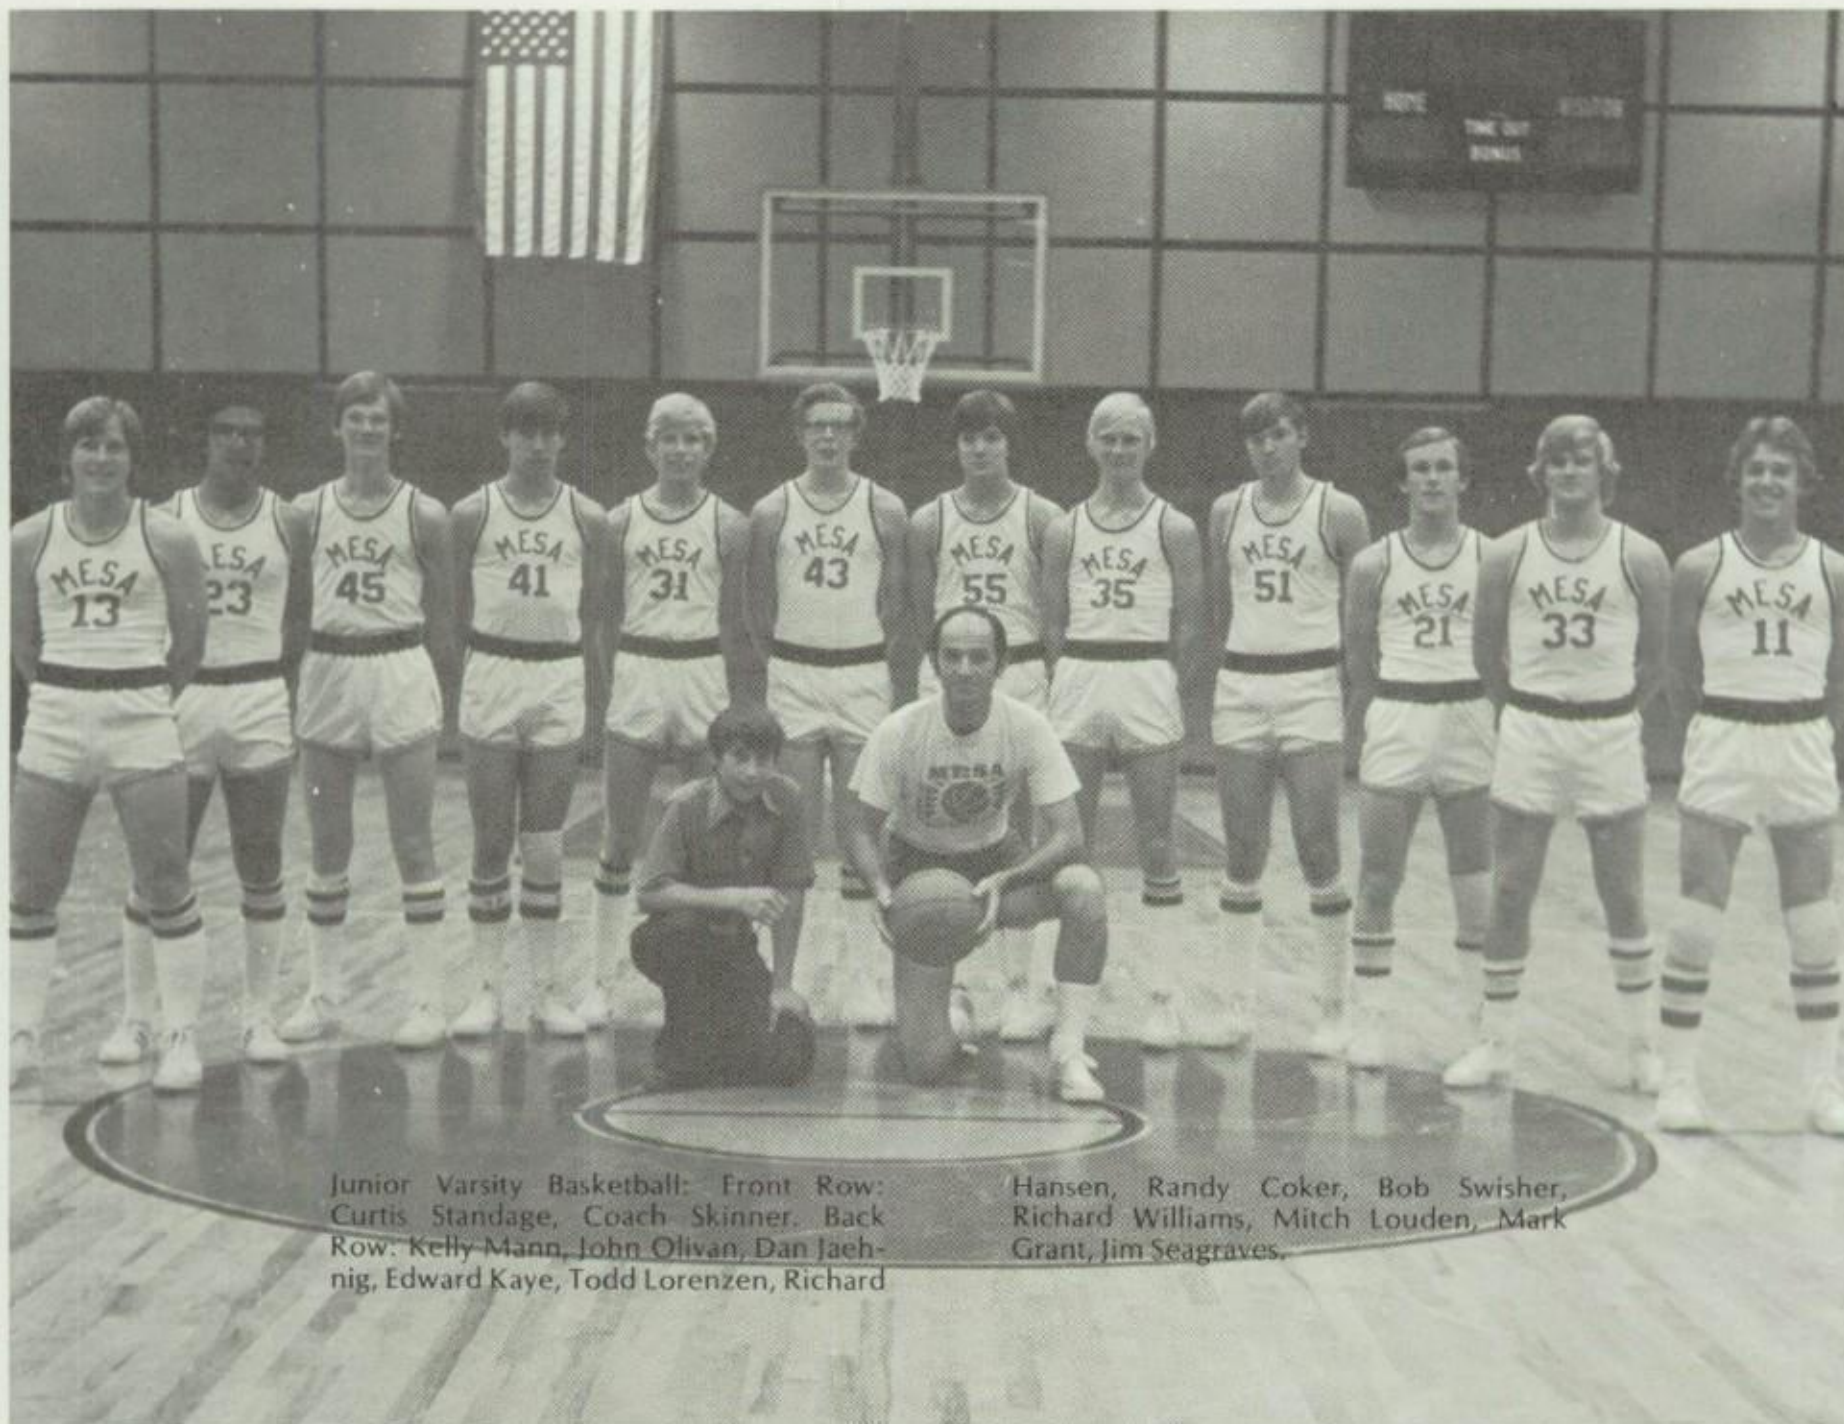

The Rabbit juniors were the seventh team to be coached by Charles Skinner. Coach Skinner complimented some of the players for their improvement, but wished they could have better fulfilled their potential. Leading in the jayvees statistics throughout the season were Rich Williams and Ed Jaehnig. The other continually strong performances were by Mitch Loudon, Jim Seagraves, John Olivan, Todd Lorenzen, Ed Kaye, and Kelly Mann.

Mesa Matmen Wrestle Down Record Season

"Best ever", was the word traveling around the Jackrabbit wrestling room. The Jackrabbits sponsored one of the strongest teams on the Mats in the area. The team chalked up an exceptional 8-1-1 record with only a small number of three seniors on the team.

The young team featured six undefeated wrestlers, with none of the wrestlers suffering more than one defeat.

The grapplers fulfilled one of their strongest ambitions of the team by defeating arch-rival Westwood by a score of 27-17. According to the teams coach, Ben Arredondo, it was the first time in 8 years a Mesa team had defeated the Warriors.

The outstanding six on the team to finish the season with a flawless record were John Olson, Mike Morton, George Canchola, Jack Koberna, Mark Walker and Steve Valentine.

JV Wrestlers Tie'em Up

An outstanding team effort with three total shutouts highlighted a perfect season for the Junior Varsity wrestlers. The mat men were undefeated in 12 matches for the second season in a row. The team held a strong group of undefeated wrestlers: Dub Jackson, Mike Jones, Greg Peterson and featured a team where all members had individual winning records. The perfect record was obtained with an average score of 49 points against their opponents every match. The season was highlighted by a close 23-21 victory over crosstown rival, Westwood, according to the grapplers' coach, Richard Griffin.

Juniors Predict Fate of Jackrabbit Hunters

"The Hood, The Glad, and The Nubbly" was the title of the Junior class play this year. The Hood (Jim Seagraves), The Glad (Matt Salmon), and The Nubbly (Walter Lantron) were three notorious outlaws.

At the beginning of the play, The Hood and The Glad were in jail for crimes unknown to the audience. The Nubbly soon joined them for shooting a jackrabbit, the state bird. The outlaws were not in for long, however. All three escaped when the sheriff (Koko Head) tried to help Belle (Kathy Rooney), who just happened to "sprain" her ankle. The scene changed to the saloon where everyone was having a good time. Their fun soon changed to fear when word reached them that The Hood, The Glad, and The Nubbly had escaped. Of course the hero, Big Jock (Paul McMullin), was called in. In the end, the three notorious criminals were shot and killed, the deserving fate for those who kill jackrabbits.

(1) Big Jock is shooting it out with The Glad. (2) The Hood, The Glad, and The Nubbly strike again! The banker (Richard Eidenschink) cries over his lost money. (3) Singing as a trio at various intervals throughout the play are Kelly Thompson, John Heath, and David Robinson. (4) The sheriff rushes to the aid of the injured Belle. (5) In the saloon, dance hall girls add to the enjoyment and pleasure of many of the customers. (6) Big Jock takes a little time out to be with his girlfriend (Kyra Morris).

Bunnies Rate Superior...

The MHS Bunnies received a Superior award this summer at the American Cheerleaders Association Camp. The Bunnies put in many hours of work that most people never know about. During the summer they had a weekly practice at 6:30 a.m. The closer school came, the longer the practices. Finally, with only two weeks left before school started, the Bunnies could be seen practicing twice a day for two hours at a time.

Every football game and all home basketball and wrestling games had the Bunnies there to cheer the guys on. They were also a companion to the Hare Band for the Veterans Day Parade and the Christmas Parade at Guadalupe. To top off the year, at Band, Day on the A.S.U. Campus, the Bunnies, along with the Band, received a superior rating, the highest rating given.

Inspirations of Man

In the Art classes this year, the students were offered a variety of projects. In beginning art, they offered projects in Sandpainting wire sculpture, weaving and woodblocking. The Advanced art classes offered projects in spinning, and naturalized drawing. Other classes in the art department involved ceramics, sculpture and jewelry.

The music department offered a large variety of groups. On the instrument side is the Varsity band, J.V. band and orchestra. Among the functions of these groups were to perform at football games, concerts and in various parades. The vocal side to the music department is made up of Chambers, Supertitions, Madrigal, Legend and Loyalty Singers. These groups were all part of the larger A Cappella and the boys and girls choruses. The music department this year put on the musical, The Music Man.

Politicians Change

In the political scene in January, many things were happening. The ninety-fourth Congress convened with several new Congressmen. The ninety-fourth Congress immediately replaced several of the older committee chairmen.

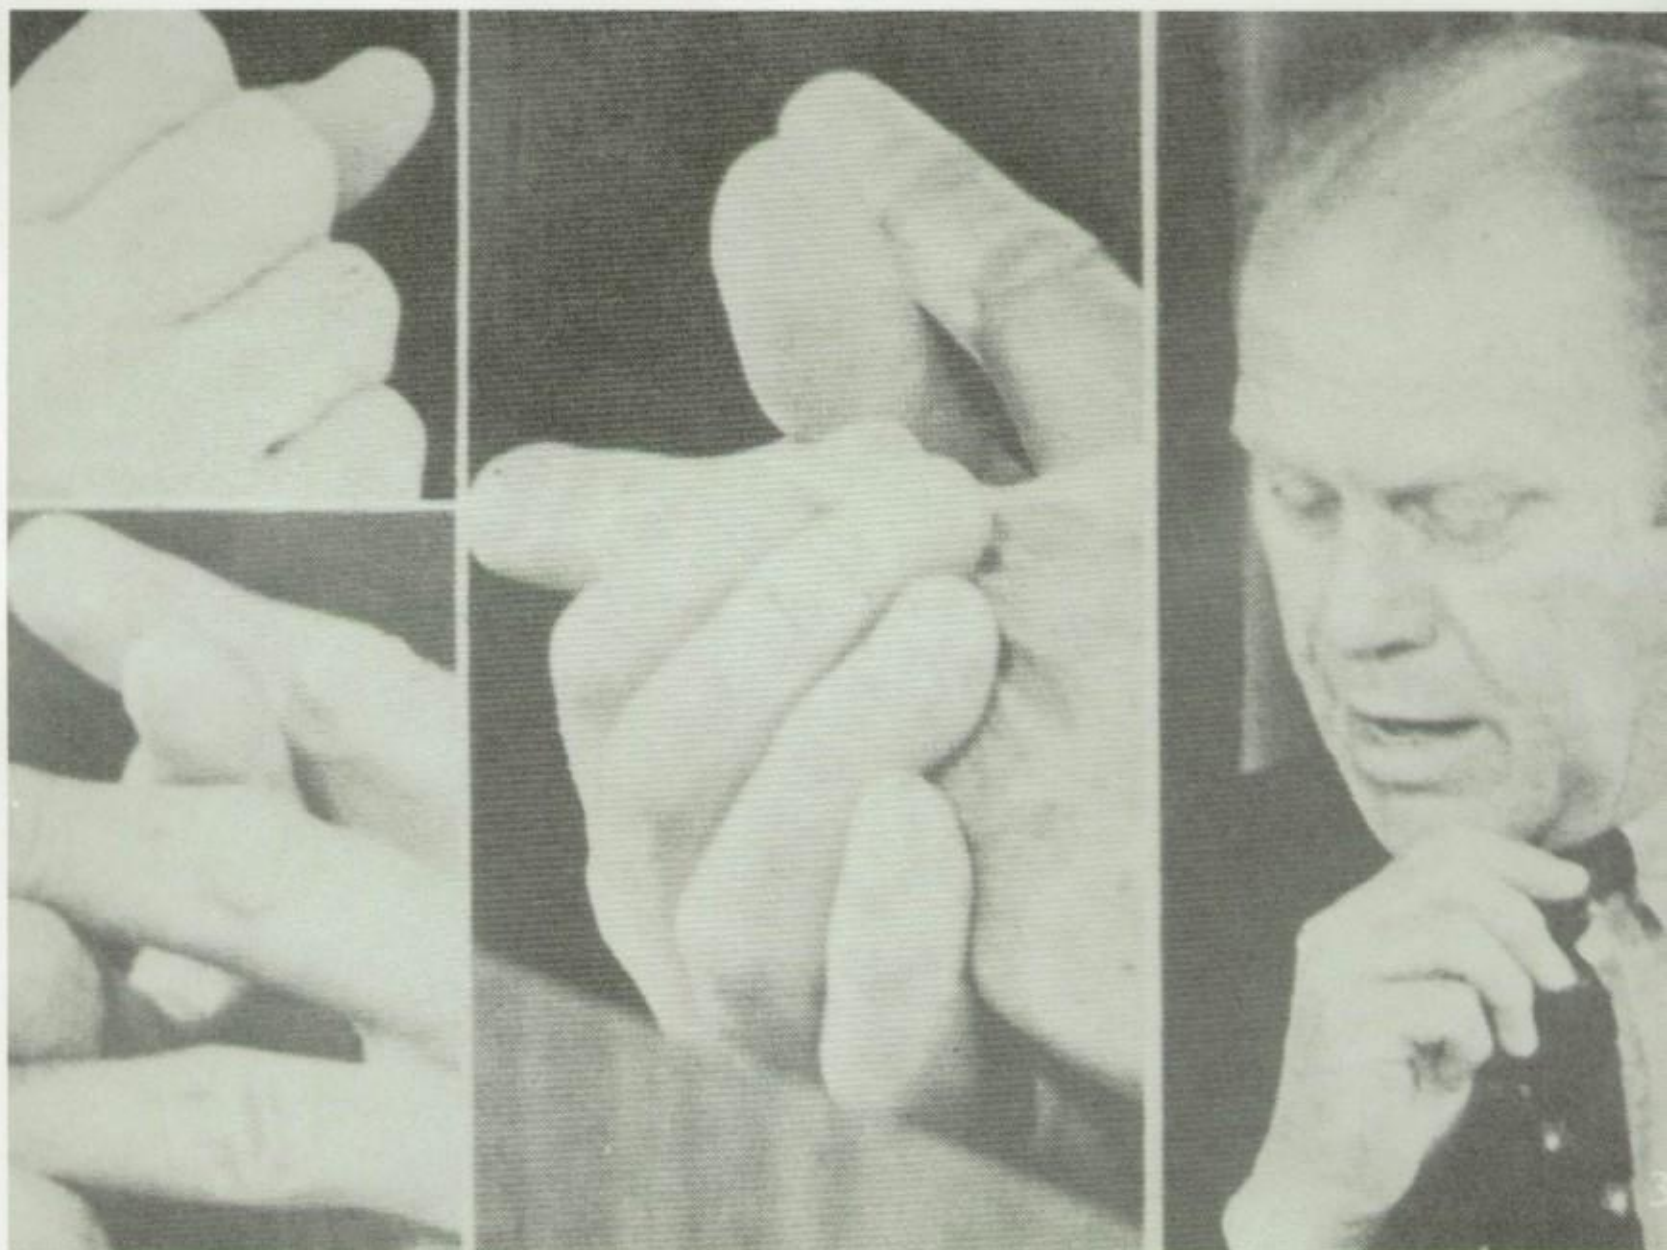

The Democrats had an overwhelming majority in the house and in the Senate. With a Republican president, January was a month of much friction between the Executive and Legislative branches.

During this month, the President and Congress attempted to solve the country's deepening recession and spiraling inflation.

Morris Udall announced his nomination for the Presidency in the year 1976. Udall was a Democrat. Also running on the Democratic ticket was Henry Jackson.

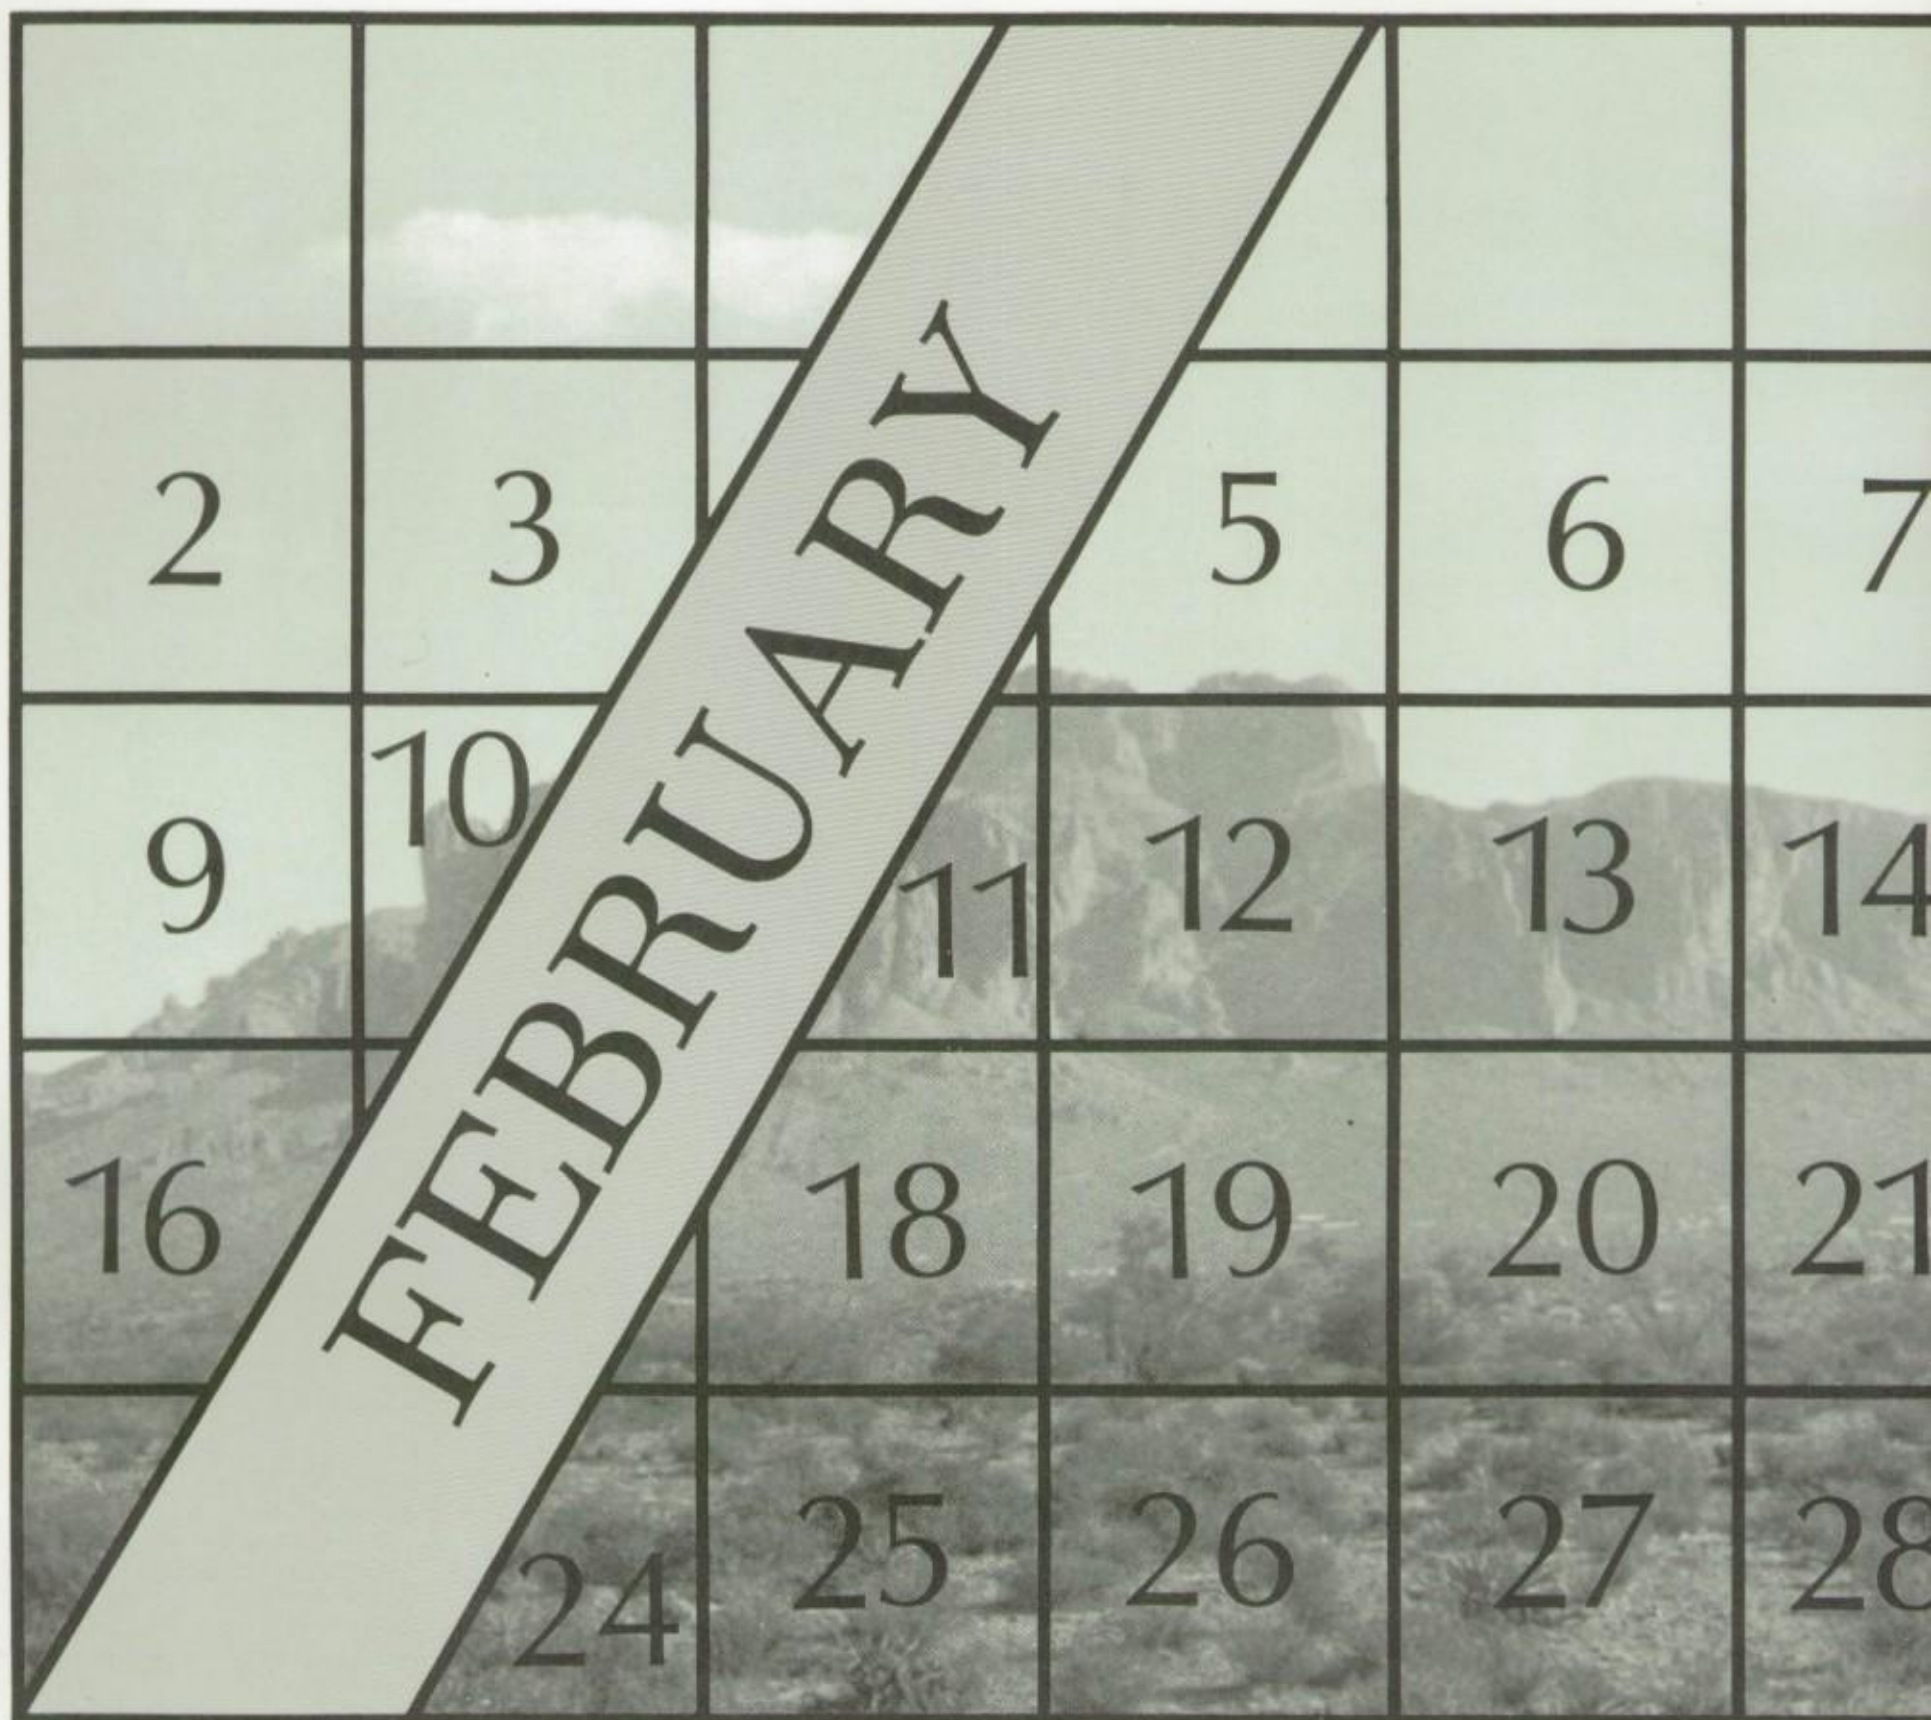

Leonid Brezhnev was in reportedly poor health and a power struggle was expected over Russia's leadership.

In Arizona, we had the first Mexican-American governor, Raul Castro, who was inaugurated on January 6, 1975. Also sworn into office in January was Bruce Babbitt, new Attorney General; Wesley Bolin, Secretary of State; and Carolyn Warren, state superintendent of schools.

"Showers of Flowers" Reign on Coed Royalty

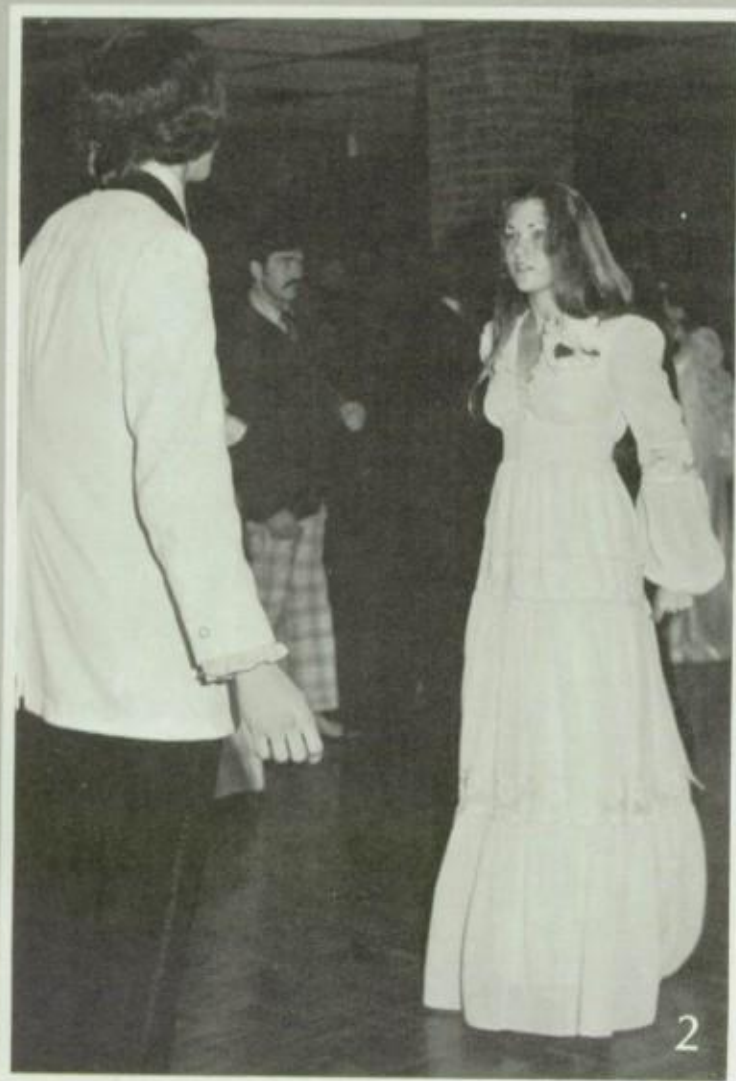

Saturday, February 8, Mesa High School's Girls' League sponsored its annual Coed, a formal dance where the girl invites the guy and foots the bill for the evening. The dance was held in the MHS Superstition Room. The music was provided by "Shades of Thyme," a band hired for the occasion.

The crowning of Bachelor and Bachelorette highlighted the evening, especially for Sherman Davis and Patty Moore, the two people who were honored at this event.

Decorations for the dance included flower lined halls and stairs. The Superstition Room was decorated with flowers and parasols lining the walls, and bowls with flowers floating in water decorated the tables, thus fulfilling the theme of "A Shower of Flowers."

Concerts Brighten Month of February

This year the student body of Mesa High was offered several opportunities to hear various music organizations, including an A Cappella assembly and an honors Concert sponsored by the Orchestra. The concert was held to raise money to perform in a National Music Educators Convention. Music was rendered by the Symphonic Band in their first performance of the year. Groups taking part in the Honors Concert were Spirit Singers, Superstitions, and Orchestra.

The sophomore class presented "Strange Happenings in No."

The townspeople of No were terrorized by mad scientist Dr. Clutchnavel, Dennis Doucette. Fearing repercussions of a "lace-less" people, the mayor, Debie Pendzimas, sends for detectives Shimlock and Wilkins, David Pettengill and Scott Mitchell respectively.

After searching for clues, the detectives follow Clutchnavel's girlfriend Betty Lovesome, Pam Larke, who unwittingly leads them to the doctor's hideaway. After putting up a good fight, the doctor and his "lace nabbers" are caught.

Men's and Women's tennis teams had a successful season this year according to Coach McCormick and Coach Sebring. The women's varsity had five returning seniors, four returning juniors, and three strong sophomores. Returning men's varsity included four Lettermen. With this much depth, the Mesa High tennis teams provided a challenge even to the best competitors in the division.

The returning players were Bruce Young, Ned Pierce, Morgan Russell, Matt Salmon, Belle Chauvin, Sandy Sweeten, Georgia Seabrook, Darcy Atwood, Susan Whitford, Chris Carson, Nancy Jarvey, Kari Pew, and Radona Despain.

New Coeds Learn Customs

Mesa High student body welcomed three new coeds at the beginning of second semester. Sophia Camacho, a junior, and Marcia Lequerica, a sophomore, arrived January 24, 1975 from Cartagena, Columbia. On January 28, Rosane Gama, a junior, arrived at Sky Harbor from Victoria, Brazil.

Marcia stayed with the Salus family. Rita Hart's family hosted Sophia. And Rosane Gama lived with Lynne Koens and her family.

The foreign exchange students found the students of Mesa High friendly as they learned the customs and traditions of a new country.

In return Mesa High sent two juniors, Carol Lidbeck and Steve Booth to Cartagena, Columbia on January 25.

Carol and Steve stayed with two families in Cartagena. They learned the life style of Columbians while going to school at Mesa High's sister school, Colegio Jorge Washington.

These Seniors "Gah-Tso" much Spirit!

Gah-Tso Club is responsible for selecting ten members of the senior class, who, in the opinion of its members have demonstrated outstanding service and spirit on the MHS campus. These ten are known as the Gah-Tso Top Ten. The following ten were chosen from a list of fifty seniors, all nominated by club members.

San Allen has been an MHS all star in Varsity Basketball for three years, was a member of Letterman's club, National Honor Society, Senior council, and General Assembly.

Cydney Boyle has been an active member of FFA for three years, French club, Girls Tennis team, A Cappella, Social Commissioner, Sophomore Class Secretary, and Junior Class Vice President.

Sherman Davis served as Sophomore Class President, Athletic Commissioner, and Student Body President. He also was a Boys State Delegate, went to Anytown, and participated in many student council workshops including the state and national student council workshop. Sherman was on the JV Basketball squad, played Jr. football two years, and was in A Cappella choir two years.

Denny Dobbins has played JV Basketball, Varsity Basketball, and served as Sports and Spirit Commissioner, was in Pep Club and Letterman's Club.

Paula Eng has been in JV Band, Varsity Band, and has earned her Band letter. She has participated in National Honor Society and the Gah-Tso Club. Paula was in the top ten scholastically, and was awarded the Outstanding Home Ec award in 73-74.

Laura Forbes served as Junior class and Senior class President, was a member of Pep Club, A Cappella and the election Board. She was the Optomist student of the month for the month of February and went to the Student Council workshop.

Jane Haase received the German award two years and the Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow award. She was a member of the Presidents Club, and was president of National Honor Society.

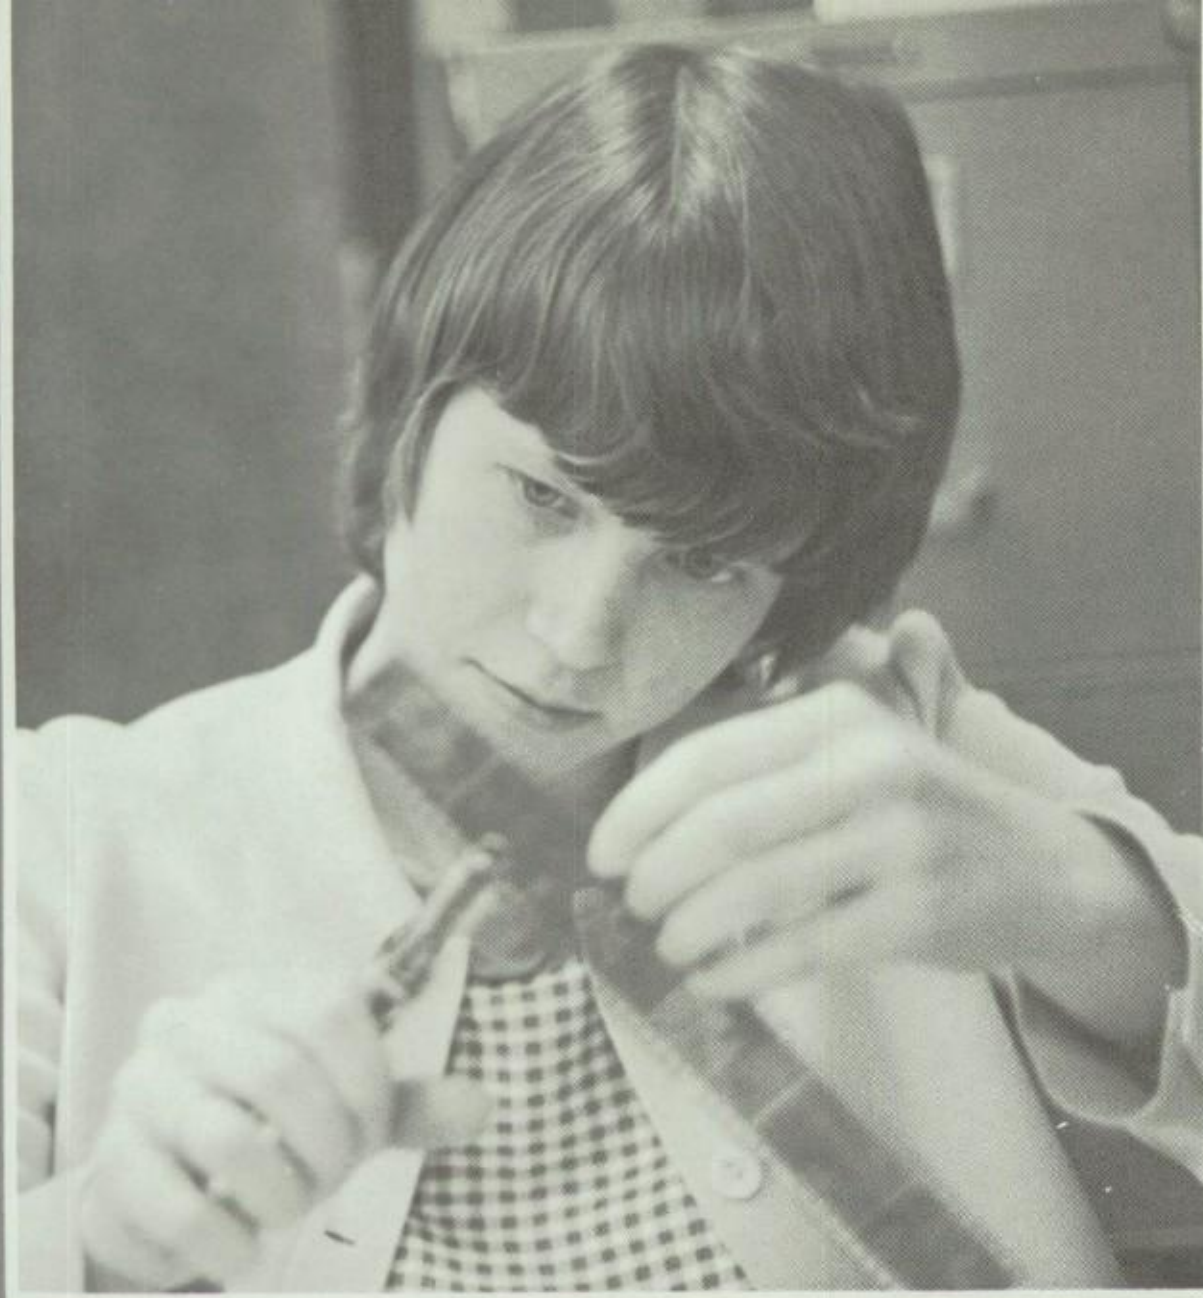

Jane Hathcock served as a representative, Vice President, and President of Girl's League, has participated in the Spanish club, SAE, Quill and Scroll, Student council and yearbook. She also went to Publications workshop as a MHS representative and was an Optomist student of the month.

Patty Moore has participated in Drama Club, French Club, A Cappella choir, Superstitions, Girls State, class councils, and General Assembly secretary. She was the October student of the month, Exchange student of the month, and received the DAR citizenship award for 74-75.

Kevin Smith was a member of the A Cappella choir, Superstitions, and Gah-Tso club. He has also been in Fine Arts council, Junior council, and went to Boys State. In December he was chosen as student of the month.

The Gah-Tso Top Ten for 1974-75 are:

Libbers Dominate Top Ten

Women's Lib took over as ten girls made up Scholastic Top Ten for 1974-75. Barbara Brown, Jolene Cox, Paula Eng, Janette Farnsworth, Jane Haase, Ingrid Fischer, Eunice Johnson, Suellen Stout, Bernadette Tallis, and Vonnie Uchytel had the ten highest grade averages in their Senior class. Barbara Brown, Jack-rabbit Co-Editor enjoyed sewing, writing, reading, and 4-H in her spare time. Jolene Cox was interested in cake-decorating, candy-making, and roller skating. She was also Photo Editor on the Yearbook Staff, and in Marching Band for three years. Ceramics, Physiology, Band, and Home Economics were the favorite subjects of Paula Eng. She also enjoyed being creative in all arts and crafts. Janette Farnsworth especially enjoyed singing, playing the piano and having fun with friends. Her favorite subjects were Music, Science, and Seminary. Jane Haase, besides being National Honor Society President, was actively involved in church organizations. Ingrid Fischer held a special interest in painting and sculpture. Some of her favorite subjects were World History and Animal Science. Eunice Johnson, a new student at Mesa High, had many interests and hobbies and had been extremely involved through her high school years. Sports, sewing, writing and talking to people were just a few of Suellen Stout's hobbies. She also received many academic awards. Sewing, reading, and playing the guitar were some of Bernadette Tallis's pastime interests. Vonnie Uchytel was also very involved in church activities, and was an All-State Choir member and had received the Orchestra point award for three years.

P.E. Trains for Leisure Time Activities

Physical Education covered a large portion of the average high school student's day. Since this was such a major activity, much emphasis was put on the program.

Many new classes were added to appeal to the interests of all students. A few examples of the new fields of girl's P.E. were racquetball, yoga, and bicycling. Regarding the new program, Miss Ellis replied, "The students have responded positively towards our program and they seem to enjoy being able to select both the activity and/or the teacher."

Black Studies Sponsors Heritage Week

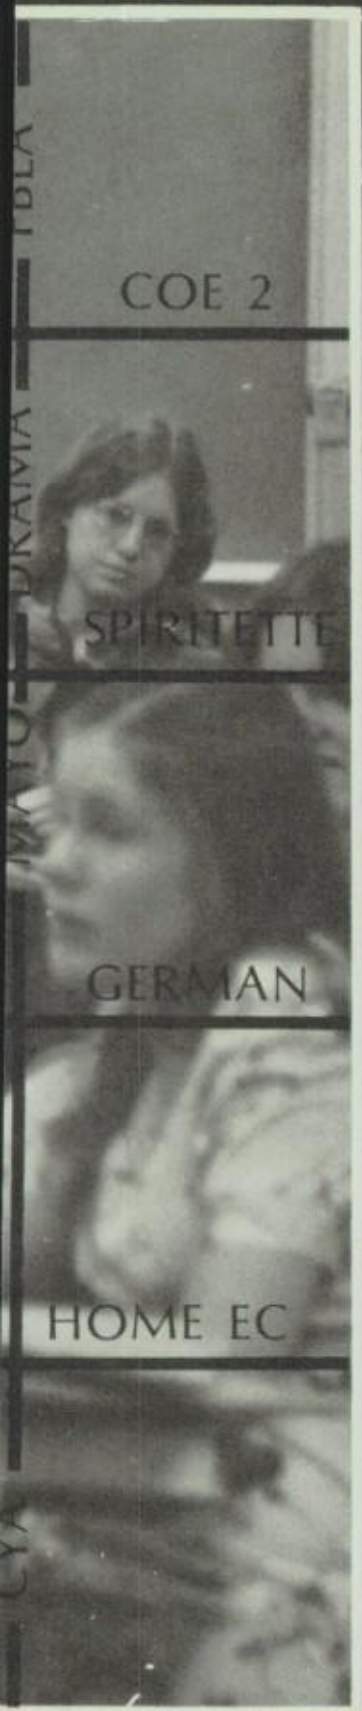

Black Heritage Week made students aware of the liberation of blacks from slavery. The importance of their heritage and the role they are playing in the present day world was observed world-wide.

The Black Studies Club sponsored the week. Club members wore their liberation colors of black, green, and red. On February 25th, a talent show was given. The talent show opened with the black national anthem, "Lift Every Voice and Sing". The evening included a variety of singing, reading, and dancing. A quartet of young men sang "You Make Me Feel Brand New". A dance was performed to the song "Running From the Devil".

Active Clubs

GERMAN

Deutscher Verein, commonly known as the German Club, seemed to be a reasonably popular club this year having forty-seven active members. Their biggest money making activity was the sale of Soft Dutch pretzels. They celebrated the October Fest in a combined party with the Westwood High German Club. Other activities included a visit to the pediatrics ward of Desert Samaritan Hospital. The purpose of this twelve year-old club was to promote studies of German culture. The officers to see that this goal was obtained were Jerry Jones, sponsor; Doug Groll, president; Steve Frayer, vice-president; Diane Elder, secretary; Pam Strnaman, treasurer; Bruce Miller, Cindy Hansen, Cindy Masterson, publicity.

NATIONAL HONOR

The main purpose of Honor Society is to promote academic excellence. Being an honor club, the club's membership is limited to those students with a 1.5 or better grade point average and were recommended by their teachers who felt they exhibited such qualities as scholarship, service, leadership, and character. Officers were Alison Vallenari, Jeanne Woodland, sponsors; Jang Haaso, president; Barbara Brown, vice-president; Paula Eng, treasurer; DeeAnn Loveland, secretary.

SPANISH

Club de Espanol, Spanish Club, had twenty-five active members and ten semi-active members. In April, this club attended a convention held in Sierra Vista. Other activities included a trip to the Snow Bowl, roller skating, and ice skating. Spanish Club also grants two scholarships to deserving seniors. Spanish Club officers are the following: Euridice Seegmiller, Ray Allen, sponsor; Rick Magargal, president; Edith Estrada, vice-president; Tammy Payne, secretary; Lynnette Alvarez, treasurer; Carol Eichenberger, recorder.

WOMEN'S M CLUB

Women's M Club was a new club on campus this year started by the girls who had earned Varsity letters. Their sponsors were Mrs. McCormick and Miss Albrighton. Officers were Cindy Masterson, president; Sandy Sweeten, vice-president; Brenda Taylor, secretary; Georgia Seabrook, treasurer. The purpose of this club is to provide financial aid for worthy athletes and provide a scholarship for an eligible senior.

VICA

VICA means Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. The purpose of this club was to give opportunities to develop leadership abilities and to plan and carry out tasks. In its seventh year, VICA planned activities such as fund raising projects, civic, socials, and they attended state conference. Club officers were: Melissa Hogle, president; Jenice Dawson, vice-president; Karen Goodyear, secretary; David Jones, parliamentarian; Linda Williams, treasurer; Robert Jones, sponsor.

COE #1

COE #1 started nine years ago. The purpose of the club was to provide a social outlet for the students who worked. The full name for the club is Cooperation Office Education. The club officers this year were: Tammy Clow, president; Valerie Weller, vice-president; Marissa Favela, secretary; Nancy Schaap, treasurer; Mrs. Brackney, sponsor.

on MHS Campus

MATH

Math Club is an organization to bring students together who are interested in Mathematics. This year as part of a fund-raising project, the club sponsored a Computer Questionnaire Match. Anyone interested would buy a questionnaire form, fill it out and turn it into the club. Later they were notified of their match. Club Officers were; Elaine Thomas, sponsor; Debra Kimberling, president; Sam Ragland, secretary-treasurer; Linda O'Shay, publicity chairman.

GAH-TSO CLUB

Gah-Tso Club is the oldest club on campus. It was started in 1927. This club was originated to help create spirit on campus. Gah-Tso Club is in charge of giving points that decide the Gah-Tso Cup winner. The club oversees the class plays, All Campus Party, and the Water Carnival. They also name the ten Seniors who have been an outstanding asset to Mesa High. This is called the Gah-Tso Top Ten. Every year a 100 dollar scholarship is given to a Senior boy or girl. Gah-Tso is an honorary club and membership is limited by application only.

FBLA

If students are interested in economics, Future Business Leaders of America is their club! The club was organized to develop competent, aggressive, business leadership and to strengthen the confidence of young men and women in themselves and their work. This year's activities included a snow trip, Sunshine Acres party with COE, and the National Convention in Miami Beach, Florida. The FBLA officers are: Susan DeVinney, Edith Brackney, Tawny Eakin, sponsors; Edie Niedenthal, president; Diana Williams, vice-president; Brenda Albrecht, secretary; Linda Self, treasurer; Deanna Johnson, Tammy Clow, historian.

FFA

FFA had a busy year starting off with the Chapter Farmer's Initiation. Many contests were held throughout the year in which the Mesa Chapter participated, showing animals, judging, and having calf scrambles, such as ASU Field Day, MCC Field Day, U of A Field Day, State Fair, Public Speaking Contest, Parliamentary Procedure Contest, Arizona National Live stock Show, Creed Speaking contest, Information Contest, and National Convention.

COE #2

The main purpose of COE #2 was to encourage leadership, initiative, and an exchange of ideas from work in an informal atmosphere. Although COE #1 and COE #2 met during their class period, there was more cooperation than competition between the two clubs. President of COE #2 Club was Deanna Johnson; JoAnne Whittaker, vice-president; Valinda Duckett, secretary; Michele Wurst, treasurer; Bonnie Sitek, sponsor.

SPIRITETTES

The Spiritettes supported the wrestling team this year by keeping score and giving out oranges to each wrestler after his match. Their sponsors were Mrs. Vallentari and Mrs. Gerlach. Officers were Sandy Sweeten, president; Belle Chauvin, vice-president; Vonda Moore, secretary; Nancy Maus, treasurer. There were twenty members active.

SIMC

Students interested in Medical Careers belonged to SIMC. The students were acquainted with various medical careers and raised money to buy supplies for the nurses office. The officers were Honey Amadon, sponsor; Robin Smith, president; Jo Ryan, vice-president; Robert Walsh, secretary-treasurer.

Leagues Help Service School

Boy's and Girl's Leagues were the only organizations on campus that the entire student body belonged to. Only elected representatives attended the meetings.

The two organizations sold concessions at the Football games and sponsored service projects.

Boy's League's duty was to sponsor the Christmas Formal whereas the Girl's League's responsibilities included the Co-ed Formal, Twirp Week, the all Girl's Assembly and the Mother-Daughter Tea.

Boy's League officers included: Howard Peterson, President, Paul Woolf, Vice president, Stephanie Davis and LeAnn Chapman as secretaries. Girl's League officers were: Jane Hathcock, President, Leslie Turley, Vice president, Marcy Chapman, secretary, and Debbie Harper as Treasurer.

Hare Band Gets New Look

The new uniforms that the Mesa High Band got this year added a new look to the band as they marched in the Fiesta Bowl parade on December 27. They were also in the pre-game shows on the day of the game, December 28.

One of the annual activities of the Marching Band, was the ASU

Band Day. This was where bands, Pom lines, and majorettes perform for the judges. The Hare Band received superior ratings again for the sixth year in a row, and for the first time, they got straight ones and one pluses.

Also new this year, the band has the most members it's ever had.

Smaller Staff Produces Largest Book in Arizona

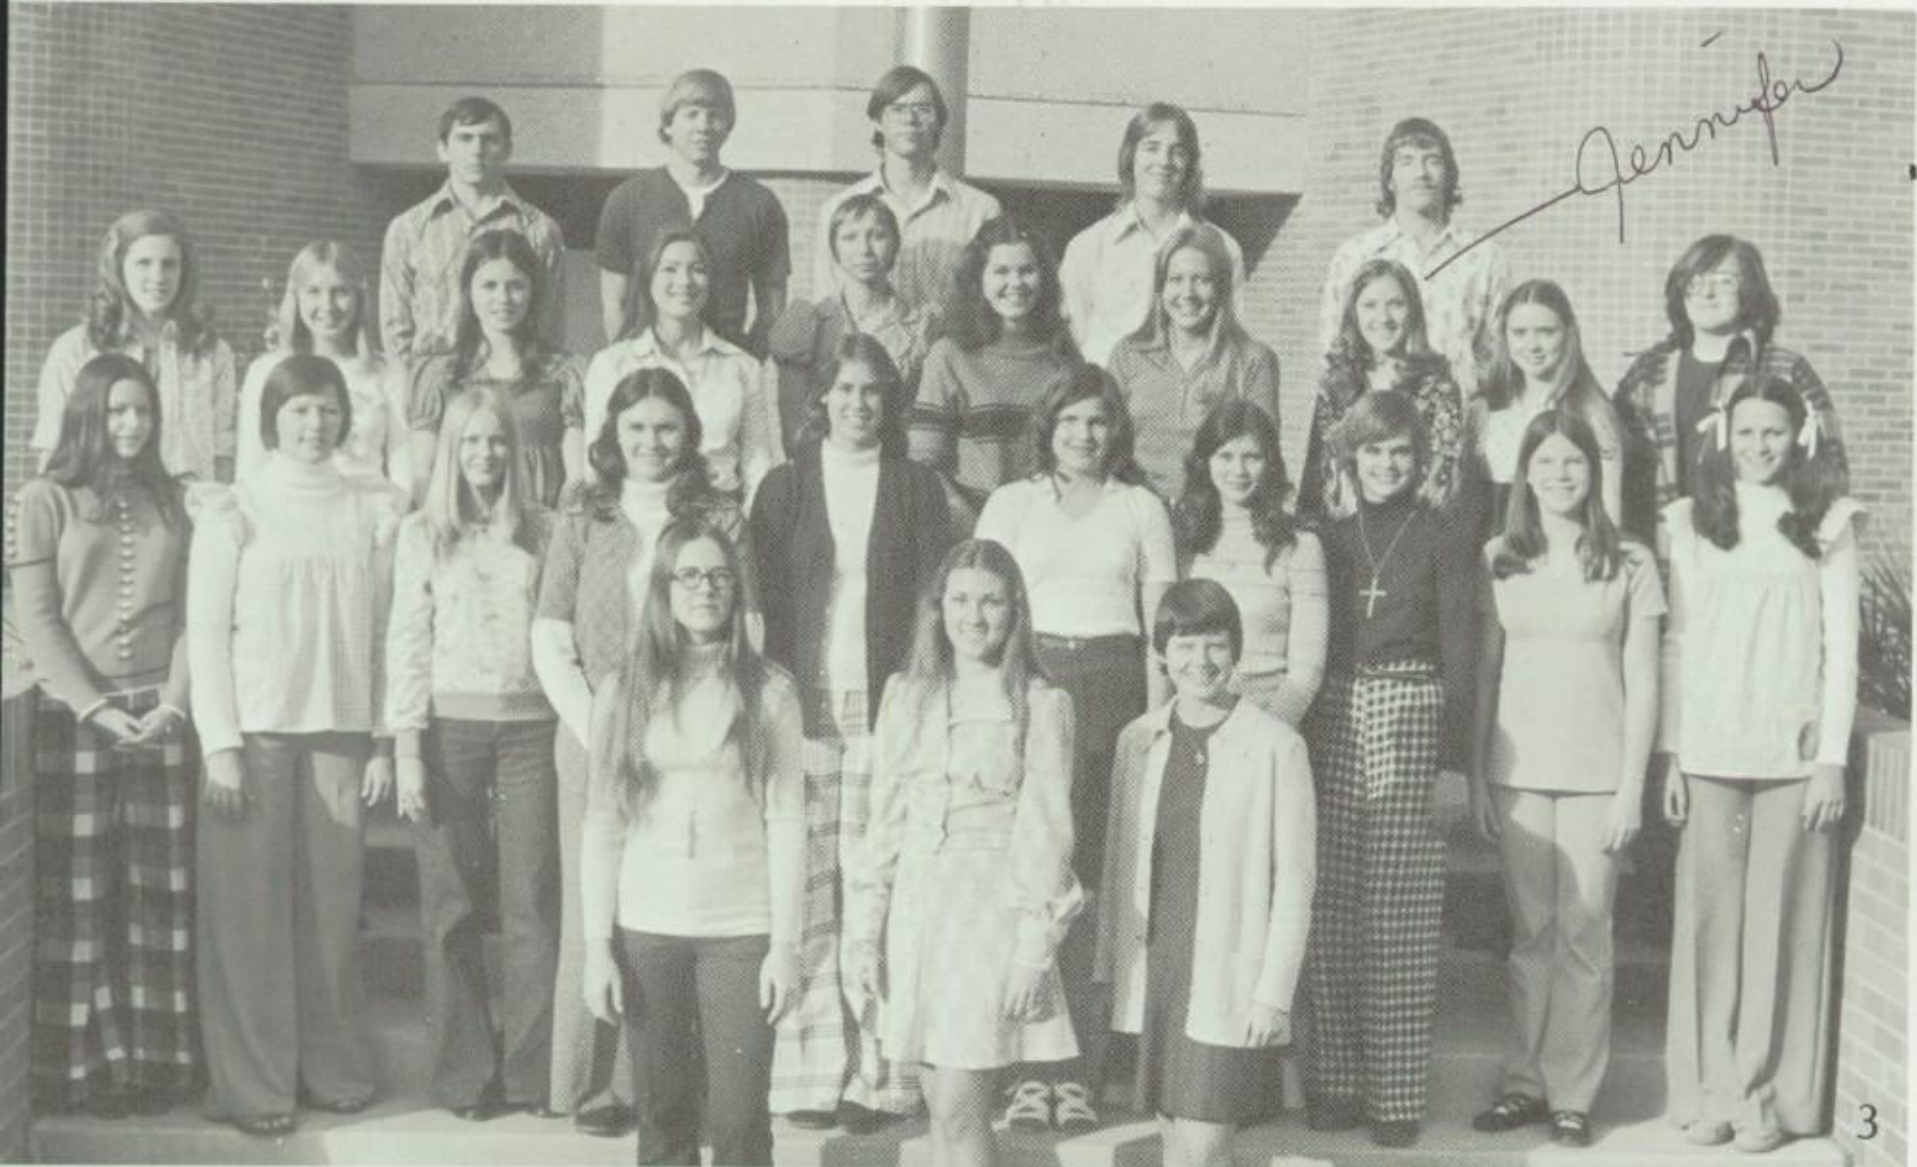

In producing Arizona's largest yearbook, drive, diligence and dedication were evidenced by the Superstition Staff. This year's 293-page book, was produced by a smaller staff than in past years.

Three main editors organized the book. Dawn Underwood,

Editor in Chief, decided on the basic layout, assigned pages and saw that deadlines were met. Sharon Rowley, Copy Editor, helped staffers with layouts and copy. Jolene Cox, Photo Editor, assigned pictures to photographers and helped staffers with cropping. Aided by Ned Pierce, head photographer, this area was smoothly run.

Twenty-two staffers and six photographers comprised the total staff. Philip Matheson, a staffer, also worked as a photographer.

Jackrabbit

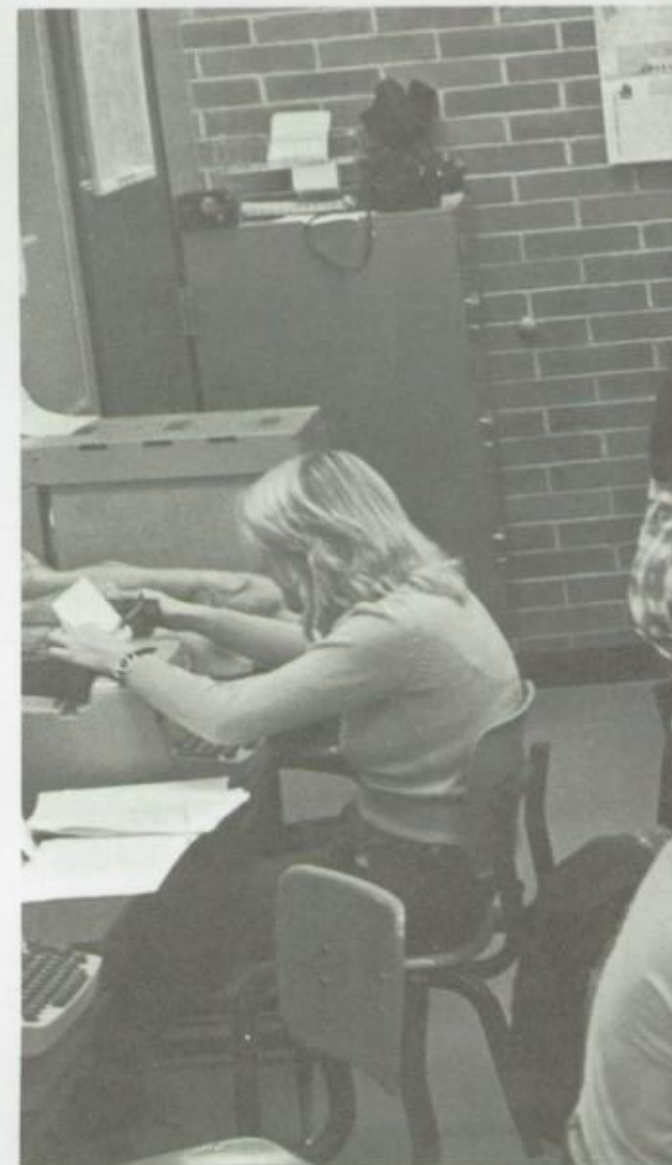

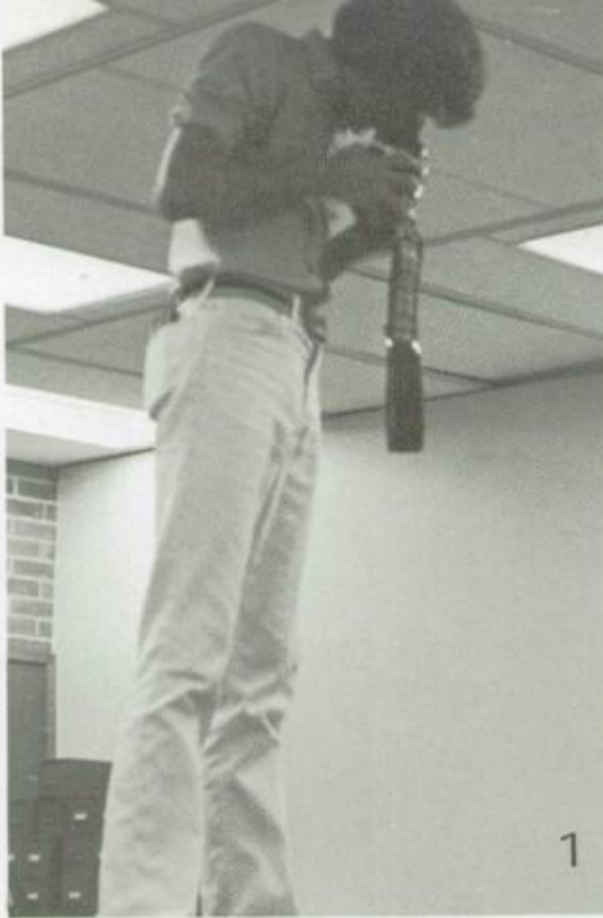

The JACKRABBIT was published sixteen times during the school year by publications students at Mesa High School, Mesa, Arizona.

Barbara Brown and Rodney Castillo, editors.

ing problems and good points of a recent issue, the JACKRABBIT editorial board, consisting of Rod Castillo, editor; Ms. Nielsen, advisor; and Barbara Brown, editor; makes plans for upcoming editions. (5) Putting out the paper involves all staffers in a hectic maze of deadline activities. Typing last minute stories, designing page layouts, writing headlines, copy reading for mistakes, and sorting out letters to the editors were all part of the organized confusion.

JACKRABBIT: New Design, Nameplate

Changes. This year's JACKRABBIT staff made plenty of them. At the beginning of the school year, a new layout design was tried, using four-column pages. Toward the middle of the year, another change was made and the paper added another column, allowing more versatility in arranging news stories on each page. In January, the editorial board decided to change the paper's name plate, trying for a newer and more interesting front page.

Under the supervision of advisor Barbara Nielsen, editors Rod Castillo and Barbara Brown assigned stories, proofread returned copy, decided on page makeup and finally pasted up the paper at the Mesa Tribune, where the JACKRABBIT was published.

Don Chance, feature editor, wrote a monthly column on popular entertainment. Under the title "Pure Chance," he presented a behind-the-scenes look at rock music.

Photographers Tom Caya and Hope Parry, directed by photo editor Dave Boyer, were responsible for setting up, taking and printing pictures for use in the paper.

Specializing in sports writing were Phil Matheson, Vic Nielsen, Lester Stradling, Keith Thompson, Tom Rucker, and Walt Lantron. Matheson began writing a feature column based on an inside look at athletes and sports. The column was punned "Jockrabbbit." Other sports writers contributed to the column.

Staffers responsible for the rest of the paper were Nanci Holman, Janna Zischke, Colleen Murphy, Karen Prestien, and Lee Hesser.

Mesa High: Active Government

Active all year, Student Council tried new activities such as the Sugar Boycott, which was covered by channels Five, Ten, and Twelve, and traditional activities like the Parkway School Christmas party, AFS week, the Bury the Hatchet Luchon and the assemblies.

Also, on their calender was the March of Dimes walk-a-thon, Christmas canned food drive, the Flagstaff AASC convention and dance sponsorship.

On Student Council were, Sherman Davis, student body president; Ned Pierce, student body vice president; Debi Rainwater, recording secretary; Debbie Burnham, corresponding secretary Laura Forbes, senior class president; Matt Salmon, junior class president; Lyndon Smith, sophomore class president; Commissioners: Clubs, Amy Riding; Fine Arts, Yvonne Lunt; Public Relations, Alaine Gardner; Service, Guynna Eeds; Social, Cydney Boyle; Sports and Spirit, Denny Dobbins; Girls League, Jane Hathcock; Boys League, Howard Peterson.

Mesa High Orchestra was chosen number one in Arizona this year. They went to San Francisco on the 21 of February and performed for the Music Educators National Conference-Western Division.

To earn the money for expenses, they performed at the Junior Miss Pageant and Leisure World. Patron concerts were given and candy was sold.

Orchestra council, along with Mr. Zebro, the director, were composed of: DeAnn Loveland, president; Gayle Dial, vice-president; Vonnie Uchtyl, secretary; Debbie Swenson, treasurer; Donna Church, publicity; Dalena Burke, historian; and the class representatives: Kim Willis, Mona Ayres, and Hank O'Shea.

A Cappella members practiced every day during fourth period and the result was the magical sound of competent musicianship. Whether as one of the 90-member choir or divided into the smaller special choirs, the members had unity and esprit de corps under the demanding and good humored direction of Harry S. Garrett. Highlight of first semester was the 29th annual Vespers Services, December 15. Both performances were packed and received standing ovations. Officers this year were Jim Bauman, president; Patty Moore, vice-president; Sheila Packard, secretary; Donna Church, treasurer; and Donna Lofgreen, social chairman.

Special Chorus— Special Sound

The Superstitions were a group of the most talented Seniors in A Capella Choir. Two Juniors were in Superstitions, although it is mainly for Seniors.

Many excellent singers were not Seniors. To rightfully give these girls their recognition for their fine singing ability, a group called the Spirit Singers was started. This was the first year of the Spirit Singers and solely for the talented young ladies.

Arizonan's choir was a mixed choir, and in it's second year of existence on campus. The choir was made up mainly of Sophomores.

Traditions Sing Out Loud and Strong

Mesa High's largest all girls chorus, Traditions, had a very busy year this year. Concerts, daily class rehearsals, and other performances have filled up their past schedule. The Traditions chorus has, for a great number of years, been the largest all girl chorus' at Mesa High. The fifty member plus chorus have been singing and singing all year. They attribute their success to hard work, and lots and lots of practice. The very hardworking chorus, under the direction of choral director Harry Garrett and associate director Dale Hall, have had a very exceptional year. The Traditions chorus will be very hardworking, hopefully, in the years to come.

Men's Chorus Makes a Joyful Noise

This past year has been a successful one for Mesa High's Men's chorus. Under the direction of Harry S. Garrett, Mesa's men have put on many concerts. The chorus this year was much smaller, but they have been very hard workers putting on a number of successful concerts.

(1) Mr. Dale Hall directs a rehearsal of Mesa High's largest all girl chorus, Traditions. (2) Mesa High's Tradition girls lift up their hearts and sing out the music loud and strong. (3) Mesa High's Men's chorus help themselves to learn by taking a test on music. (4) Mesa High's singing men calmly await the return of their director, Mr. Harry Garrett.

Legends Sing a Song of Loyalty

This past school year the Legend and Loyalty Singers performed in three concerts. Both choral groups also participated in the Mesa District Choral Festival which was held on November 5, 1974. They also combined with the other choral groups and sang at Baccalaureate and Graduation Services.

(1) Loyalty Singers rehearse for a concert.

Spirit Thrives High at Mesa

Publicity and Pep Council combined their drive and enthusiasm to make the 1974-75 school year a lot of fun. Publicity Council, under the direction of Alaine Gardner, made signs and posters to publicize events taking place around Mesa High such as, dances, projects, pep rallies, all athletic events, and other school activities.

Pep Council, with president Duffy Heppler, created and presented skits for all the pep assemblies. They made spirit buttons for the respective teams to promote enthusiasm and spirit.

Mesa Sponsors Three Active Organizations

Mesa High was again proud of the high quality work exhibited by the Speech and Debate Team and the Social and Fine Arts councils.

The Social council under the direction of Cydney Boyle, was responsible for such activities as the "Way We Were" homecoming event and the Howdy Hop. The group also sponsored the All Campus Party and the Water Carnival.

The council's dozen regular members also assisted other groups in organizing activities such as club dances and assisting with the FFA sweetheart dance.

The Fine Arts council, headed up by Yvonne Lunt, was the responsible party for putting on the traditional assemblies. Old and

New Faces, Traditions and the Christmas Assembly were among those under the council's direction.

The group was also representative in general for all fine arts programs presented on campus, serving as coordinators for such activities.

Speech and Debate, the organization for any student wishing to compete in a speech tournament, held a fine season at Mesa.

The monthly competing team was headed up by the co-sponsors Mrs. Gerlauch and Mr. Schallen. They were assisted in running the team by the co-captains, Barbara Brown and Rod Castillo. The team's meets seldom found Mesa out of the finals.

Service Council was an organization that did non-profit activities for both the school and community. They organized the fire drills, and checked up on the student and faculty cooperation during the fire drills. The group was led by Service Commissioner, Guynna Eeds, with the supervision of Sponsor, Jaren Tolman.

Presidents Council was a group of the presidents from each of the clubs and organizations on campus. Amy Riding was this year's Clubs Commissioner. The members of the council discuss and organize the projects, activities, and problems of the clubs on campus. This organization kept unity between clubs.

Onward We Will Always Strive,

For We're the Class of '75

Senior 75 Dedication

The past is already a dream
And the future is only a vision.
But the present well lived
Makes every past a dream of happiness
And every future a vision of hope.

(1) In COE 1, Senior students learned many useful skills; correct spelling is one. (2) This is the emblem on the 1975 graduation announcement. (3) One MHS tradition is the Senior table and class yells during lunch. (4) Mrs. Cora Inskeep, from the Tempe branch of Right to Choose, is one of many guest speakers in first semester government classes. (5) Some Seniors try to sell elevator keys to underclassmen.

Life Is What You Make It

The past is like a clay statue, because both are shaped for life and can never be changed. The past can be recalled and remembered, but never relived. The future can be recreated a thousand times over because it's like clay waiting to be molded into any shape desired. A person's decisions and actions are constantly molding and remolding this lump of clay. But the present can make anyone look upon the past with regret or fondness; the future with apprehension or anticipation.

So I say to you, the Class of '75, live your life in a way that you may look back at it with a sense of satisfaction. Have faith in yourself and your future. Remember, life is what you make it and want it to be.

THE MUSIC MAN

Mr. Garrett directs one of A Cappella's many rehearsals!

Harry Samuel Garrett was born January 27th 1937 in Lake City, Iowa. Starting music at a young age, Mr. Garrett sang his first solo at age four and began piano and percussion lessons in elementary school. Other than superior ratings for vocal and percussion solos and making All State band and chorus, he was awarded "Outstanding Vocal Musicians" his senior year at Thomas Jefferson High School, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

While in high school, Mr. Garrett was a member of Thespians Society, National Honor, and lettered in Golf. He worked as a paper boy in junior high and high school and worked in department stores.

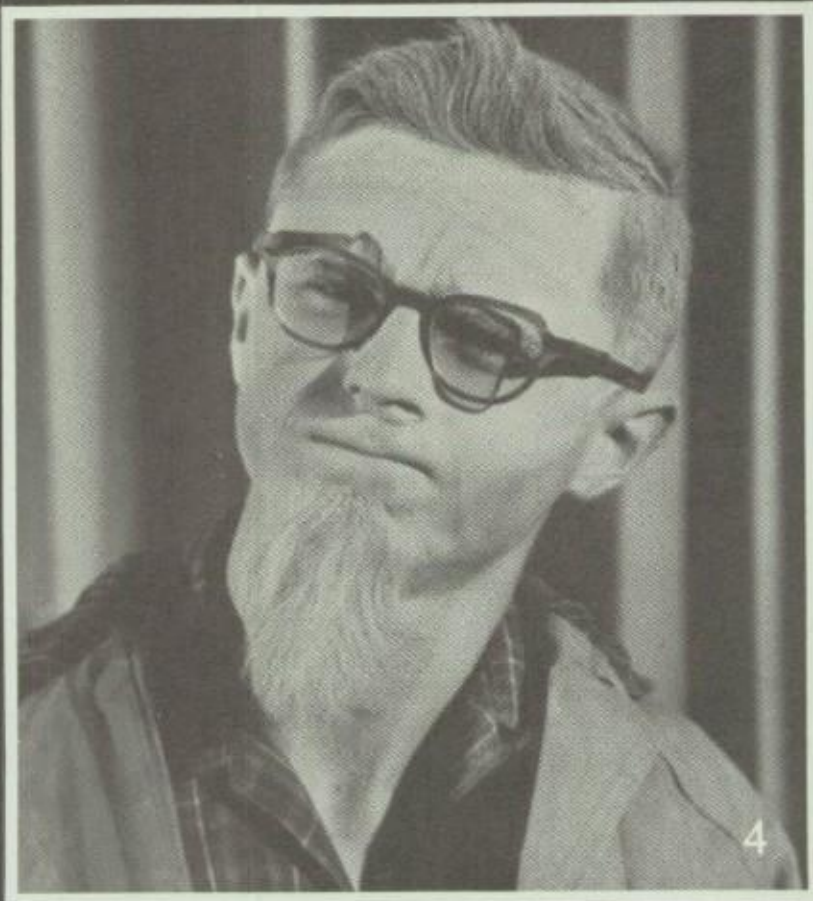

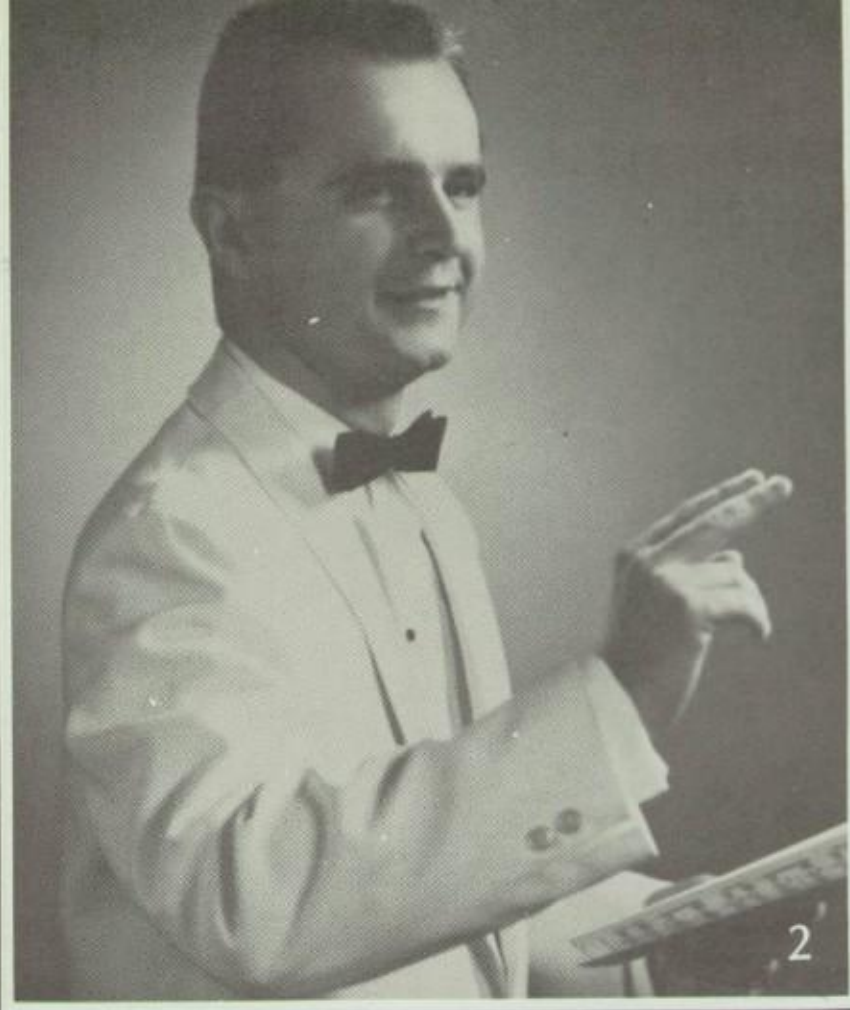

Mr. Garrett attended Nebraska Wesleyan University in Lincoln Nebraska, where he was very active in chorus, band and musical plays. After meeting in college, Mr. Garrett married Lois Marek. Having held many jobs in the music field, Mr. Garrett is a life member of "Music Educators National Conference" and the "National Education Association". He is also a member of the American Choral Directors Association".

Mr. Garrett's hobbies consist of his students, golf, cooking, sleeping and Teddy, an Australian Lilhy dog.

"Mr. Garrett, thank you for your loyal dedication to Mesa High and the students."

School Board Gains New Member

A new member was elected to the school board this year, he was Dr. John Crandall. Dr. Crandall replaced Mr. Donald Ellsworth, who is now retired.

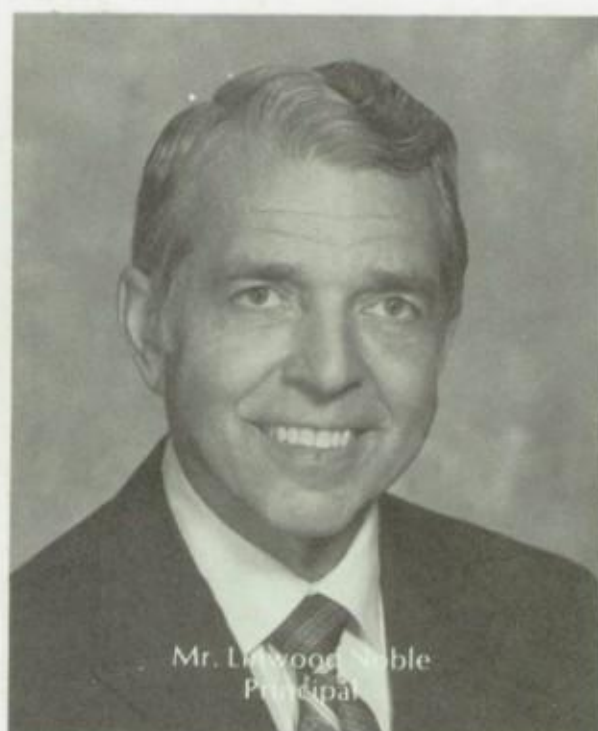

The vice-principals all had different responsibilities. Mr. Dant oversaw the social activities of the students, while Mr. Miller was involved in student sports, and Dr. Fitzgerald took care of student affairs. Mr. Noble, Mesa High's principal, took care of all the administrative problems.

Futures Influenced: Free

Counselors and secretaries had many different areas in which they helped students. One area more familiar to students was registration. This year, the counselors were much happier with the method of registration than they have been in past years. The method used may have been a little more troublesome at the time, but it resulted in a big difference in the number of schedule changes.

Besides helping with registration, the counselors helped students decide on a career to follow. One service that seniors were interested in was their information on various colleges. Besides giving out this information, they helped those students who wanted scholarships to receive them, if they were deserving. Another service was to help the young men of MHS to register for the draft.

Safety Ed. Improves Program

Mesa High Driving Range, which was being constructed during most of the school year, added a big change to the Safety Ed. Department. Construction included a two story control panel for a microphone-to-car communication system, and other facilities including a section for student observers. Also included in the driving range was an on and off ramp, plus a hill that simulated entrance and exit to a freeway, a "skid" pad to teach emergency braking procedures, and a gravel road to provide all types of roadway experience for beginning drivers. Classroom instruction was changed drastically, and all Safety Ed. teachers were required to attend a district-wide workshop to prepare for the presentation of the new material.

Special Service workers at Mesa High included the security police, the bookstore, the school nurse, the custodians, and photographer Mickey Portillo. Mickey had many jobs, such as printing sports programs, the daily and weekly bulletins, advising student photographers, and many jobs for the school district, and faculty and students of Mesa High.

Social Studies Department Grows

The Social Studies department has grown by adding a new class to their program this year. Participation in Community was given second semester. The students went out into the community and did work without being paid for it, but they received one credit for ten hours a week. Mrs. Hellberg was the teacher who taught the class.

A new teacher, Mr. William Cooper, came to Mesa High this year to teach American History and Study Hall.

Mesa School Board decided to make American Government a full year starting next year.

The Sciences Add Interests

This year the Science Department has been involved in many activities. The Physiology class, taught by Mr. Charles Skinner, went on several field trips. Two of the places they visited were the veterinary office to study bone irregularities and to Dr. Johnson's office to learn about artificial joint replacement.

Mr. Hal Cluff's biology classes took a field trip to Payson to observe how field scientists interpret geological forms, life forms and the earth's strata. They also went to collect fossils.

With these new and different activities going on, the science department was busy throughout the year.

New Teachers and New Programs

This year was Mr. Elliot's first year with the Mesa High English Department. Mr. Schallan was also new on the staff. He came during the semester change of the 73-74 school year.

This was the last year of team teaching, but "Principles of Writing" will still be continued next year.

Tutoring was one of the new classes in the Reading Department. The tutoring program is made up of students who voluntarily spend one period of the day tutoring. Students who need tutoring in a subject or subjects they are failing may ask to get into the program.

Changes in Foreign Language

There were several new changes in the foreign language department this year. One new teacher had been added to the department, Mrs. Amy Hull, who teaches French. Also this year, classroom language tapes were placed in the library for students.

The structure of the classrooms was enjoyed by both students and teachers. The Spanish rooms were arranged with folding panels for the students to convene for lectures and movies.

Many inter-language club activities had been held this year. The department had such activities as a snowbowl trip, Foreign Language assembly and AFS assembly.

New Individualized Projects

Home Economics classes were planned and developed to meet student needs. There were classes for the beginning students: ABC of clothing; Threads & Things; Bachelor's Survival; Exploring Foods.

Advanced students could choose from a wide variety of offerings from Child development to Creative Foods and much more.

Teachers attended many conventions and workshops to learn the latest information and techniques to share with their students. Classes were constantly evaluated and changed to keep them up to date and relevant.

Students did many individualized projects which benefited them as well as their families.

Home Economics was a necessary area especially now in this period of high inflation.

The enrollment in the Home Economics classes this year was the largest that they have ever had.

New Teachers Added to Industrial Arts Staff

Three new teachers were added to the Industrial Arts-Agriculture staff this past year. Those new teachers, who began teaching last September, were Ted Maish, who helped students in the field of Auto Mechanics, James Richardson, who taught in Woodworking, and Ron Garcia, who aided students in the area of welding. That was not the only change in the department. A law, effective from the fall of 1974, states that girls can now register for any of the shop classes that are available. This law is a step toward more equal opportunities for women. Industrial Arts-Agriculture teachers feel it will offer the girls a new choice. They expect a little larger female enrollment next year, but admit the number of girls in Industrial Art classes won't be significantly increased.

Fine Arts: Denizens of the North Building

This year MHS had a new art teacher, Richard Bramwell. Mr. Bramwell taught in California, then he taught at Kino Jr. High, before coming to Mesa High. Mr. Bramwell replaced Ms. Shelley. He does drawings, he went to A.S.U. He has his Masters Degree in Art. His opinion of Mesa High is, "He likes it real well."

A new class was offered at Mesa High in the art department, Silk Screening. Silk Screening is a method of printing. It is an original art work although there may be many of one kind. Before taking the class, the student should have taken an art class.

New boys' P.E. coach, Blake Zimmerman, was born in Utah. He graduated from Weber State; majored in P.E. and minored in History and Health. He was just out of college and this was his first teaching job. His opinion of Mesa High was that it's a real fine place, and he likes it. Miss Driggs sponsored a new class in the girls' P.E. program, cycling. In this class Miss Driggs and her student teacher, Miss Schmidt, showed that cycling could be done for a sport and also for fun. Several speakers came in and talked to them. Miss Driggs thought the girls really enjoyed it.

 real sweet
 guy, stay cool!
 next year in band is the best ever.
 I hope we can get together for some goodies next year.
 Good luck in all you do.
 Love Ya,
 Rosanne

Gymnastics, Archery Look for Winning Seasons

Gymnastics continued to play an ever mounting role in Mesa's sports program as the program expanded into its fourth year for the boys and third year of competition for the girls. Austin Thacher cited the ring event as being the strong point in the boys program, citing team captian Keith Thompson and his younger brother

Kelly as the reason. Dave Green and Eldon Lewis stood out in the team as the all-around-performers. The girl's team was coached for its third year by Miss Judy Driggs. She cited her captains, Carolyn Kirkwood and Susan Williams as standouts with Darl Robinson and Vicki Klein as always putting through a strong performance. Kirkwood and Robinson vaulting was the outstanding event. Archery also put through its third year of action. Miss Nancy Ellis featured six returning lettermen with Mary Ann Hosick and Doris Burns the teams best.

Golfers Face Tough Competition; Baseballers Show Talent

Two aspiring teams that went out to make their mark for the spring sports season this year were the golf and baseball teams. The golf team, which was coached by John Storment, participated in twelve matches during the year in a division which was described by the coach as the "toughest in the state." The team featured two three-year veterans of the courses, Bud Morrow and Mark Bomar. Another standout of the team was junior

Fred Bunsic.

According to coach Ted Fowler, Mesa High's Varsity Baseball team hit the diamonds with a "real green, junior-laden team." However the coach was very quick to add that "the talent was there with all kinds of potential." The team featured five returning players from 1974's League A Championship team. The strongest assets were, according to the coach, pitcher Cary Palmer and team Captain Duane Meskill.

MHS Track Team Relies on Underclassmen

Track and Field was once again a strong facet of the Mesa High spring sports program. The team's greatest assests came from both on and off the track, as in the words of Coach Richard Heywood, "These were all very fine men. All were extremely responsive to coaching and if that indicates success then we were extremely successful." 1975 seemed to be a year of young teams and the track team was no exception as the team depended mostly on the junior and sophomore talent. Heywood was assisted throughout the season by Jesse Nevin and David Sebring. The Rabbits featured a strong group of jumpers led off by senior Charlie Galvin in both high jump and pole vault. Others on the team to stand out were juniors Rick Halverson, Dutch Kram, Robert Whetton, Dan Kellar, Tracy Jackson, and David Hinchey.

Mesa High Swimming Team Well Balanced in All Events

Coach Dick Peterson credited his 1975 swimming team as being "one of the strongest looking team in the last few years". The twenty-one man team consisted mostly of underclassmen but, as the coach stated, "when the underclassmen come through we can really win". Coach Peterson's team was led by team captains, Craig Redding and David Slides. Peterson, a seven year veteran of swim team coaching, is having one of the most balanced teams he has seen to come from Mesa High. The team competed in two regular season dual meets with some of the strongest teams in the state. Peterson credited his strongest competition of the year as coming from rival Westwood and Phoenix Camelback. Each meet consisted of 10 regular swimming events plus diving competition. The rabbits dominated most of the regular swimming events.

Dear Bill,
Howdy! Well, it's been far-out knowing you this year, we have really been through a lot (know what I mean?) you are a super-person, stay that way! Have fun & I hope
I see you around sometime!
Love,
Harry
